POLICE SHIELD ASSASSIN FROM VENGEFUL MOB

Crowd Clamorous for Life of Negro Who Slays White Woman.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

HUNTINGTON, W. VA., April 15.—A moment after hearing three shots at the home of Herbert Steele this afternoon, neighbors saw Charles Morrow, a negro hotel porter, emerge from the rear door of the Steele home, brandishing a smoking revolver. People who rushed into the house found Mrs. Martha J. Bass, a white woman, who lived with Mrs. Steele, dying from bullet wounds. Two bullets had penetrated the woman's breast, one immediately below the heart, the other to the right of it.

An alarm was given and Morrow was quickly surrounded. The police had to use their clubs to overpower the negro and had difficulty in keeping the crowd back while they hurried their prisoner to the county jail, where he is under a strong guard. The cause of the shooting is a mystery.

It is known that early this morning Morrow delivered a note to Mrs. Bass, and it is alleged that he threatened to kill her if she answered it. In the afternoon the woman went to the hotel where the negro was employed. Fifteen minutes after she had returned home the shooting occurred. No one saw Morrow enter the house, and no one knows what took place between them. Mrs. Bass died 35 minutes after she was shot.

A statement issued by Prosecuting Attorney Wallace, promising a speedy trial, will, it is believed, prevent a lynching, though ugly threats are heard, and the negro will be closely guarded. Mrs. Bass was 30 years old, and came here from Meigs county, Ohio, where her family is well known.

WOMAN SCREAMS IN CHURCH AND CAUSES HYSTERICS

NEW YORK, April 15.—(Special.)—While St. Patrick's cathedral was crowded to its utmost capacity during the 6 o'clock vesper service tonight, Lena Lindeman of Hoboken was noticed to throw up both hands, while her face became distorted with pain. She screamed violently and many women became hysterical. An ambulance was summoned and Dr. Loixeaux of Flower hospital, who removed her to that institution, said she was suffering from neuralgia of the heart.

JAIL EMPTIED OF INMATES

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

SPRINGFIELD, MO., April 15.—State militia, reinforced by 500 deputy sheriffs, guard the streets of Springfield tonight against possible renewed action by a mob that, last night and this morning, lynched three negroes in the public square. There are hundreds of strangers in Springfield, and the anti-negro feeling still runs high.

Will Allen, a negro, charged with the murder of O. M. Rouark last January, but protesting innocence, was taken from jail early this morning by the mob that lynched Duncan and Copeland before midnight. Allen was hanged in the public square to the same tower that had served as a scaffold for the two negroes killed earlier in the evening.

Allen was calm and collected, as he jumped from the tower up which he had been compelled to ascend. The rope about his neck broke as his weight fell on it, and he dropped into the pyre containing the charred bodies of his former companions in prison, Duncan and Copeland.

Second Attempt Succeeds.

Allen was taken up the tower again and compelled to jump. This time his captors were more successful in their work.

"I swear that I am not guilty of killing Rouark," were his last words.

The lynching took place under a statue representing "Justice," that surmounted the electric light tower. Duncan and Copeland were suspected of assaulting a young woman, but they declared themselves innocent, and they had not been identified as the assailant of the young woman.

As soon as Allen was dead several men rushed back to the jail for Bud Cane, a negro also accused of the murder of Rouark, but Cane and all but six of the prisoners in jail had escaped from the wrecked prison. The mob finding itself without suitable prey, went home as day began to dawn.

The jail is a wreck, the mob, after they had secured the three negroes, continuing their work of destruction until nearly all the prison bars were down. About $3,000 damage was done in the prison alone, while in the sheriff's residence, which was attacked first, the damage is fully as much. Mrs. Horner, the sheriff's wife, who fainted on account of fear and violence, is in a critical condition.

Folk Sends the Militia.

Although no untoward move was made later in the day, many threats were heard, and Sheriff Horner, fearing a fresh outbreak when darkness should fall, telegraphed Gov. Folk early in the day for aid. The governor responded promptly and within a few hours six companies of militia were on the way to Springfield from various part of Missouri. The first of these companies arrived this evening, and it was followed during the night at intervals by others.

In addition to sending soldiers to guard against further violation of the law, Gov. Folk took quick action to prosecute the leaders of last night's mob. The governor authorized a reward of $300 each for the arrest and conviction of members of the mob. This is the limit allowed by law. In addition he instructed Rush Lake, assistant attorney general, to go to Springfield at once to aid in ferreting out and prosecuting the leaders in last night's work.

Of the 14 prisoners, whites and negroes, who escaped from the prison during the mob excitement, four have been captured.

Race War Seems Imminent.

Thousands of persons today swarmed about the jail to see the wreck caused by the mob, and about the public square where the three negroes were hanged to an electric light tower and burned. Every train brought hundreds of persons to the city from surrounding towns, mostly hoodlums.

Many from the farming regions caught the mob spirit readily, and shared the

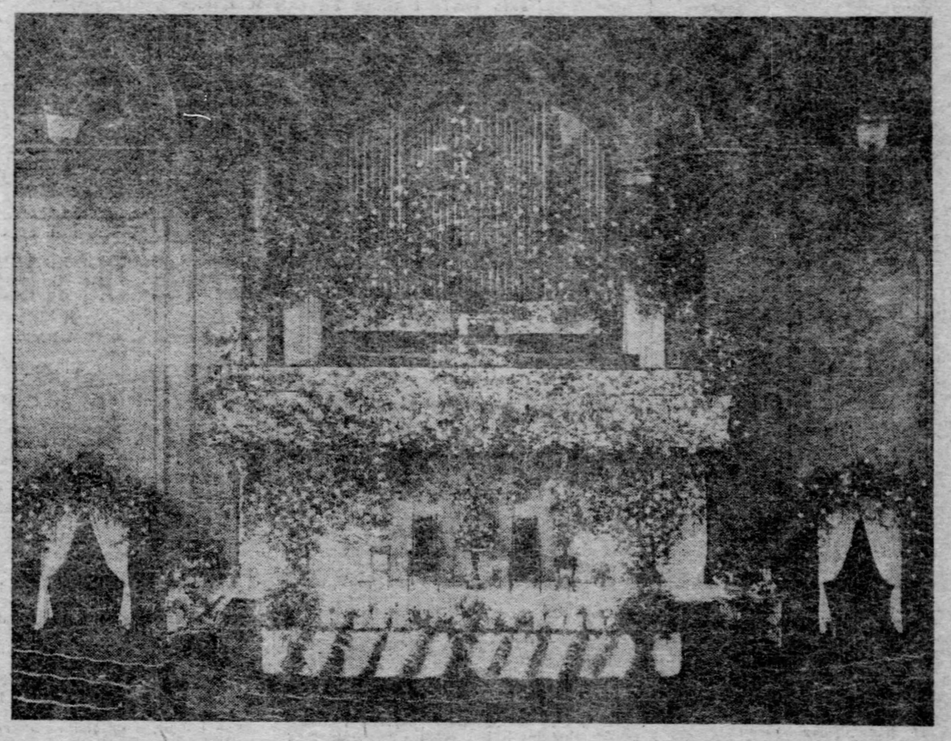
EASTER PRAISE AMID EASTER LILIES



Decorations in the Second Presbyterian Church.

EASTER FINERY, SPRING FLOWERS, ARE BLOOMING

After-Church Paraders and Lovers of Sweet Blossoms Defy Unseasonable Weather.

Flowers, femininity and finery were all abloom yesterday, despite the unseasonable Easter weather. The parades after church, both downtown and in the East End, suggested sunshine, even if the air was chill and damp and the clouds gray. Of course, the debut of many gorgeous Easter costumes was delayed, but there were enough to make a very satisfying showing.

All the churches had unusually large congregations, especially the Roman Catholic and Episcopalian, wherein Easter is recognized perhaps more fully than in churches of other creeds. Yet in nearly every house of worship floral decorations were profuse and special music was rendered by augumented choirs. This was especially noticeable at "Old Trinity," where hundreds were unable to gain admission; at Epiphany, where the crush was almost as great, Bishop Canevin officiating, and at the Second Presbyterian church.

But the flowers. Anywhere from 15,000 to 20,000 persons passed through the Phipps conservatories in Schenley park, revelling in the hues and breathing in the perfume of thousands of Easter lilies, cinerarias, calcolarias, roses, hyacinths, tulips, crocuses, jonquils, narcissus, crimson ramblers and hydrangeas. Many private conservatories were thrown open to the public and fully appreciated, as was testified to by the thousands that visited them. Among the more notable of these private displays were those of H. C. Frick, A. R. Peacock, D. M. Clemson and Maj. C. M. Laughlin.

In spite of the bad weather, it was very much like Easter in Pittsburgh yesterday.

TWO HURT IN EXPLOSIONS.

Dinkey Engine Boiler and Ladle of Hot Metal Blow Up Simultaneously.

The explosion of a dinkey locomotive boiler at the Boston Iron & Steel works, Riverton street, McKeesport, at 9 o'clock last night also caused the explosion of a large ladle of hot metal, and in the double accident two men were severely hurt. They are John Navson, a laborer, aged 24, Jerome street, McKeesport, who was struck by the shower of molten metal and fearfully burned about the body, and George Henly, fireman of the dinkey engine, burned and scalded.

The dinkey engine was standing near the ladel of molten metal when the accident occurred, and the first report was immediately followed by the second. The locomotive was wrecked. Navson was sent to the McKeesport hospital and Henry was taken home.

WOMAN ARRESTS TOUGHS WHO HAD CAPTURED TOWN

Mrs. Fairgraves, After All Men and Police Are Vanquished, Proves a Heroine.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

VALLEY JUNCTION, IA., April 16.—After a reign of outlawry and disorder all day Saturday, during which men were held up on the principal streets, prominent saloons entered, the inmates ranged against the walls and robbed and other depredations committed by a gang of 15 toughs who had taken possession of the town, this community was last night rid of the toughs through the nerve and bravery of Mrs. John Fairgraves, who got the drop on three of the desperadoes, and after arresting them, instilled enough courage into the men of the town to form a posse and drive them away.

The toughs, on Saturday morning, captured the town, disarmed its only policeman and robbed a dozen citizens and several stores. In the afternoon in Wagner's saloon 15 men were forced to range themselves against the wall and deliver their valuables.

At 7 o'clock three desperadoes entered Fairgraves' saloon with drawn revolvers and forced 11 men to stand in line. Mrs. Fairgraves, living above the saloon, heard the commotion, seized a revolver, started downstairs, stepped into the saloon, and poking her pistol against the temple of one robber commanded, "Drop your gun or I'll blow your head off." The desperado handed over the gun. Mrs. Fairgraves covered the other two with a pistol in either hand. She then ordered some of the men to arrest the robbers, who were covered and all were placed in jail. A posse with Mrs. Fairgraves at the head drove the other robbers from the town. Mrs. Fairgraves is the heroine of the town.

CENTURY-OLD HOSTELRY BURNED AT YOUNGSTOWN

Several People Injured in Excitement Following Outbreak of Flames. Money Loss Small.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

LATROBE, PA., April 15.—Fire gutted the Hotel Washington at Youngstown, three miles distant, this evening, causing a loss of about $2,000. The blaze started in the cellar at the furnace, and the rooms and halls quickly filled with smoke, forcing the occupants to jump from upstair windows.

Mary, the 4-year-old daughter of Thomas Barrett, the proprietor, was dropped from a second-story window and was cut about the head and face in the fall. James McCarty, a boarder, sustained a broken arm in leaping to the ground.

Citizens quickly formed a bucket brigade, and in a quarter of an hour by carrying water from nearby wells and pumps, quenched the flames. The hotel was over 100 years old.

DYNAMITERS GET BUSY.

Wreck a Store and Dwelling House and Imperil Lives of the Owner and Family.

WILKES-BARRE, PA., April 15.—The people residing in Georgetown, three miles from here, were thrown into a state of excitement early this morning when they heard a loud explosion. Later is was discovered some one had placed dynamite in a hole in the ground near a two-story double building owned by John Laska and occupied by him as a store and dwelling.

Laska, with his wife and two sons, the latter aged 12 and 17 years, were asleep in the house, but none was seriously injured. Mrs. Laska was taken from the house in a fainting condition.

EXCURSION STEAMER STRIKES SNAG IN OHIO AND IS LOST

EVANSVILLE, IND., April 15.—The big side-wheel excursion steamer Louisiana, carrying 400 passengers, struck a snag in the Ohio river tonight and will be a total loss. The passengers were panic stricken, but by running the boat at full speed into the bank all were rescued. Capt. Morgan says the steamer will be sunk in 20 feet of water by morning, and he has no hopes of saving her.

TURN SPEAKEASY BEVERAGES INTO THE HOSPITALS

All Wet Goods Confiscated During Raids Will Be Used to Restore Waning Vitality.

Are wine and liquors secured from the cellars of speakeasies and other illegal resorts so tainted that they should not be used to restore the waning vitality of patients in the hospitals? It is to be hoped not, for the police department has made a ruling which touches closely on the disposition of the speakeasy beverages. Hereafter all such spoils resulting from raids are to go to the hospitals, and the patients are to receive the benefit.

For instance, in a police pilgrimage to a suspected speakeasy in the hill district yesterday, 125 bottles of choice Italian wine was secured. This morning one of the police wagons will deliver at the doors of various hospitals this product of their Sunday raid, with the request that it be used in the restoration of health.

It had long been the habit in the police department to destroy all liquors secured from speakeasies. This met with opposition on the part of the unfortunates who fell into the net. The courts decided recently that this wholesale destruction of the output of the breweries and distilleries was unauthorized and would have to be stopped. The police, therefor, have hit upon this new idea, and will consistently adhere to it unless opposition arises from some unexpected quarter.

SAUER KRAUT FAILS AS REMEDY FOR HER BURNS

Polish Woman Succumbs to Terrible Injuries, Although Peculiar Relief Is Essayed.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

BEAVER FALLS, April 15.—Covered with a thick layer of sauerkraut resorted to as a cure for terrible burns received yesterday, Mrs. Emil Blatz, a Polish woman 18 years old, died at her home this evening. While getting the noon-day meal yesterday she poured oil on the fire. The can exploded, saturating her clothes with burning oil. Crazed with pain the woman ran to a neighbor's house, and sank to the ground. Her hair was burned off and her whole body, arms, legs and head was a crisp.

Her husband returned home for dinner, and found her still conscious, with a covering sauerkraut tucked around her by the neighbor Polish women.

Last night she became unconscious and a doctor was called, but the remedies he prescribed were not applied. She lingered until this evening.

SCARES AT AUTOMOBILE.

Four Persons Are Thrown from Carriage on Grant Boulevard, One Being Knocked Senseless.

Charles Moore and wife, Jacob Gearing and wife, all of whom live at 56 California street, Thirty-eighth ward, were thrown from a carriage on Grant boulevard, near Washington street, yesterday afternoon, when their horse frightened at a passing automobile. Moore, who was driving, was thrown against the retaining wall and knocked unconscious. The front wheel of the carriage broke against the curb and Gearing and the women were thrown to the sidewalk.

Gearing was hurt about the back and head and his wife's face was bruised. Mrs. Moore was not hurt. The owner of the automobile tendered his aid, but the victims said he was not at fault and he proceeded on his way.

Conductor Killed By Automobile.

CLEVELAND, O., April 15.—B. Mollett, a street car conductor, was run over by an automobile in Euclid avenue, early today, and received injuries which caused his death a short time later. The automobile was being driven at a high rate of speed by Jay Davidson, who was taken in custody by the police, who charged him with manslaughter.

READY FOR LEGAL STRUGGLE

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, April 15.—The web of exposure is slowly but surely entangling John Alexander Dowie, the self-styled Elijah III., and more recently posing as Moses II., in its meshes. The autocratic ruler of the Christian Catholic church, who sped northward from his Mexican retreat to combat to the death and to annihilate with the scorn of his face and the fire of eyes those of the Zion City leaders who had dared to oppose his methods, saw today a still further decline of his fast-fading authority.

Despite his spectacular ride to Chicago, where, it was said, he would visit the condemnation of the Lord upon those who had wrested control of Zion City from the Annointed One, Dowie has made no move characteristic of his old-time energy. He remained in seclusion today in Chicago, while at Zion City General Overseer Wilbur Glenn Voliva produced the first of his batch of documentary evidence by which he expects to overthrow completely the domination of the doubly-reincarnated first apostle.

Warning Sent to Apostle.

The inhabitants of Zion City, in anticipation of further revelations, flocked to the tabernacle at an early hour. Long before the service was opened the building was filled. Voliva made good, in large part, at least, his charge that Dowie's continued rule would spell ruin.

By documentary evidence of convincing character he submitted that Zion City should divorce itself from a leadership that was held to be unworthy. The instrument of exposure was a letter written under date of April 13, 1904, and addressed to Dowie, who was then in Zurich, Switzerland.

The letter was signed by Overseers John C. Speicher, Charles J. Bernard and Judge V. V. Barnes. In the document they warned Dowie that unless he changed his ways in the management of Zion City a clash was inevitable. They stated that from their examination of the conduct of the affairs of the colony it was evident that Dowie had overdrawn his account at the bank in Zion City; that he had received deposits when it was known the bank was insolvent; that he had used funds otherwise than in accordance with the representations made by the stock contracts and certificates, and that the proof of the appropriation of such large sums for his own personal use and for ends outside of the industries named would be tantamount to a conviction of embezzlement in any court of law.

The letter further implored Dowie to exercise a rigid economy on the part of himself and his family, saying that expenditures to this end should be based on needs rather than upon a fictitious income.

Great Audience Approves.

After the regular Easter ceremonies at the tabernacle had been concluded, General Overseer Voliva requested Overseer Brasefield to read the letter in question. When Deacon Brasefield read that section of the letter which said "there is no doubt for a moment that a failure to meet payments and an exposure of the true condition of things would land yourself and the cashier and general financial manager in jail very promptly," the audience signified its approval of the sentiment expressed by applause. The letter continued: "The standard of Zion cannot be lower than that set by the business world outside. Your safest place would be here at home. There is but one country outside, and that is Chile, where you would be safe from the attacks which would be made, and the situation here will be hazardous if you continue your policy."

"The using of funds otherwise than in accordance with the representations made by the stock contracts and certificates and the proofs of the appropriation of such large sums to your own personal use and for funds outside of the industries named, including what has been done at Ben MacDhui, would be tantamount to a conviction."

Dowie in a Passion.

The letter concluded as follows:

"Such is the extent of Zion that nowhere in the civilized world will you be without the pale of the extradition law. Your business entereprises have connections in every land, and hence in every country a venue can be laid on a criminal charge."

General Overseer Voliva then called Deacon Newcomb, who was one of the party who was traveling with Dowie at the time the letter was directed to Dowie. Deacon Newcomb stated the letter was received by Dowie in Zurich, and that he flew into a great passion when he disclosed the epistle, saying that the policies he had inaugurated must prevail.

Dowie spent a quiet Sunday in this city, and presided over simple Easter ceremonies which were participated in by a few of his faithful followers at the Auditorium Annex.

The attorneys for both sides said that conferences would be resumed tomorrow, and that there were yet hopes that a basis for an amicable settlement would be reached.

Ohio Reports Baseball Fatality.

WOOSTER, O., April 15.—(Special.)—The first baseball fatality of the year in this section took place at Lodi, Medina county, when Charles Kimberling fell dead from heart disease while standing at the plate ready to bat. Kimberling's parents live at Wheeling, W. Va.

WRECK OF THE TOWBOAT HOXIE

LIVING WOMEN FOUND BURIED

Two Victims of Vesuvius Starving Among Corpses at Ottayano Are Rescued.

THE VOLCANO HAS SUBSIDED

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NAPLES, April 15.—The somewhat threatening condition of Mount Vesuvius, Saturday night, having subsided, with the ejection of enormous clouds of sand and ashes, the mountain is again enveloped in a thick haze which cuts off the view from Naples, only the outline of the base being visible. Prof. Matteucci, director of the royal observatory on the mountain, tonight issued the following bulletin:

"My instruments are now most calm. The emission of sand continues in less abundant quantities and I wait serenely a satisfactory termination of the eruption."

The sudden renewal of alarm Saturday night gave way today to the celebration of Easter with unusual fervor. The festival is always picturesque in Naples, but today it was doubly so. Cardinal Prisco, archbishop of Naples, celebrated an elaborate thanksgiving mass in the cathedral, while along the streets crowds prostrated themselves before sacred images.

The gravity of the situation has now shifted to Ottajano and San Giuseppe, where the recovery of the dead from the debris goes on amid the misery of thousands of homeless refugees.

A sensational development occurred during the work of salvage at Ottajano today when the searchers unearthed two aged women, still alive but speechless, after six days' entombment. They were among the hundreds who were crushed beneath the falling walls during the rain of stones and ashes last Sunday and Monday. Hope had been abandoned of finding any of those persons alive. The women were protected by the rafters of the house which they were in, and had managed to exist on a few morsels of food which they had in their pockets.

Nine dead bodies were taken out today, and it is estimated that a hundred more remain under the ruins. The work of salvage goes on amid the twisted masses of fallen houses, churches and stables, and in deep drifts of cinders and ashes. At some points the ashes is 10 feet deep, reaching to the windows of the second stories of the few hovels still standing.

The work of salvage at San Giuseppe has brought to light a remarkable condition. Bodies have been found of women in whose hands were coins and jewels, and one woman held a rosary, indicating the instinct to preserve earthly belongings in the moment of fleeing from death.

The excavations at Herculaneum, over which the town of Resina stands, have recorded similar instances of death overtaking its victims carrying their jewels while fleeing from the invading lava.

HOUSEKEEPERS TO GUARD WASHINGS IN BLOOMFIELD

The Police Unable to Catch Laundry Thieves and Women Will Stand Watch at Night.

The police are looking for laundry thieves who were operating in the Bloomfield district last week. Three homes were stripped of all their table linens, underwear and other articles of clothing which had been left in the laundries at night to dry.

Last Tuesday night the thieves robbed the laundry of George N. Tea, 218 Graham street, taking about $100 worth of linens and wearing apparel. The next night they broke into the laundry of Hyman Browarsky, Friendship avenue and Graham street, and stole the entire wash, valued at $75. The police were notified of both robberies, but in spite of the efforts to catch these prowlers the thieves visited the residence of T. W. D. Hieber, 246 Atlantic avenue, the next night, and stole the entire wash, valued at $100.

In each instance the thieves confined themselves to taking the wash which was drying. It is said half a dozen other "washline" robberies were committed in that neighborhood, but the police refused to give the names of the persons robbed.

The housekeepers of Bloomfield claim they will have to remain up at night and guard their washing unless the police become more active in running down the thieves. Supt. McQuaide will detail special men in that district this week.

TARTAR BRIGAND SLAIN.

Dragoons At Tiflis Have Encounter With Depredating Nomads—Bandits Slain in Jail.

TIFLIS, April 15.—In an encounter in the ouskirts of Tiflis today between a band of Tartar brigands, who have been committing depredations almost within the city, and a squadron of dragoons, the troops killed two and mortally wounded four of the Tartars, the others escaping.

A squadron of Cossacks which surprised another band in the village of Jevanshis captured four of the leaders. Four Cossacks were killed in this encounter, and after the bandits had been lodged in prison they were killed by the Cossack guards.

GAY DISPLAY ON THE BOARDWALK

Fully 100,000 Contribute to Brilliancy of Easter Scene at Atlantic City.

ONE GIRL WINS FOOLISH BET

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., April 15.—Something of the spectacular featured the Easter demonstration on the board walk today. Thousands of new gowns and hats were presented for admiration, and their tints and shades gave the Easter promenade a Joseph's coat picturesqueness. Not less than 100,000 people took part in the turnout.

Showers held all restless prisoners indoors until noon, when the sun gleamed through the clouds. It was a signal for the release of the impatient multitude and they first appeared in raincoats and umbrellas as they were suspicious of the clearing sky. Two o'clock, however, made them more confident and then came the brilliance of the festival of hats and costumes. The dress materials were light for the weather and the season, but they contributed to the brilliancy of the day. There was nothing sensationally new among the women beyond their love of bright shades for everything.

Police were stationed every hundred feet to keep the throngs from blockading the boardwalk. Roller chairs were halted at the raise of the baton when congestion became incipient. Mayor John Weaver of Philadelphia, with his wife, was in one of the chairs. Scores of Philadelphians held him up and insisted on shaking hands with him. There was fear of a break up of the parade and Policeman Mark Lacey, on duty at the Point, told the mayor that he must "move on." The mayor took the officer's hands and then broke through the ring of people who waited in turn to grasp his hand.

Miss Francis Fairchild did a crazy act on the beach while 5,000 people played the part of spectators. A freakish bet sent her into the curling breakers, in which some of the winter chill lingers, dressed in her Easter raiment. Her nerve almost failed her as she reached the water's edge and saw the turbulent waves, but two companions began to chide her. She wore a hat, and this she removed. Then she waded out to her knees and retreated. Chided again, she made a desperate rush for the water, plunged herself into the embrace of Neptune and began a short battle with the breakers. She quit the bath instantly and made a dive for the bath house.

Police talked of arrest, but did not put their words into action. Investigation brought the fact tonight that there was $20 won by the plunge, and that the young lady was a member of some theatrical company and was here on her vacation.

EASTER DAY IN RUSSIA UNSTAINED BY TERROR

Repressive Measures of Government Contribute to Order, but Danger Is Not Yet Passed.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

ST. PETERSBURG, April 15.—The Easter festival, the anniversary of the Jewish massacres at Kishineff and other places, happily was not stained this year so far as was reported up to midnight, by anti-Jewish excesses. The measures taken by the government and the orders sent to the provincial authorities to take every precaution, with the added warning that they would be held personally responsible for outbreaks, apparently were effective, though the danger will not be over until the Easter holidays are passed.

The high church feast was celebrated today in the usual fashion—with much eating and drinking and the exchange of the kiss of peace. Some slackening in the old religious fervor was noticeable, especially in St. Petersburg, attributed to the revolutionary propaganda which, in striking at the roots of the state, touched also blind devotion to the church.

Among Easter honors announced today are the following: The order of Vladimir of the first class is bestowed upon Nicholas De Lodygensky, consul-general at New York; the order of Stanislaus of the second class upon Paul Kozakevitch, consul at San Francisco; the order of Vladimir of the third class upon M. Wolfant, charge d'affairs in Mexico, whose wife is an American.

EASTER FOR DEAF MUTES.

Silent Services With Song and Sermon Are Participated in by Congregation of 300.

NEW YORK, April 15.—(Special.)—From nearby cities deaf mutes came to attend an Easter service this afternoon in St. Ann's church for deaf mutes. There was neither singing nor speaking, yet there was a choir of six women and a sermon by the Rev. John Chamberlain, delivered with marvellous dexterity of his hands, watched closely by more than 200 persons.

After the sermon, the choir, filing to a position before the chancel rail, stood in line and, lifting and lowering its hands in rhythm, recited, with rapid fingers, hymn No. 116. On the silence of rapt attention, the regular undulation of the swiftly moving fingers produced a subtle effect, and there was a straining among those who could hear a little, to catch the sound of an organ accompaniment.

MRS. DEPEW GETS HOME.

Set at Rest Rumors That She Had Separated from Her Husband, the Senator.

NEW YORK, April 15.—(Special.)—Mrs. Chauncey M. Depew arrived today on the White Star steamer Celtic from a trip abroad and set at naught reports that she and her husband had separated by going first to the family home, No. 27 West Fifty-fourth street, and later to Scarboro-on-the-Hudson, where Senator Depew is ill.

Mrs. Depew was met by Chauncey M. Depew, Jr., and Dr. Munn, the family physician. She was greeted affectionately by her stepson and immediately engaged the physician in an earnest conversation. She was driven to the Fifty-fourth street house. Dr. Munn went with her to Scarboro. It is said Senator Depew's health is much improved.

PENNYPACKER ON HIS FARM.

Governor Is Preparing to Spend Most of the Summer With His Family at Schwenksville.

HARRISBURG, April 15.—(Special.)—Gov. Pennypacker is arranging his affairs to spend the greater part of the summer with his family at his farm at Schwenksville. Mrs. Pennypacker and daughters will go to the farm about May 1 and will not return to the executive mansion until late in the fall.

The mansion will remain open during their absence for the convenience of the governor, who will spend three and four days a week in Harrisburg except during the hot months. The governor is spending the Easter holidays at his farm arranging for the spring planting and the visit of his family.

SENATOR TILLMAN WILL TALK ON CAMPAIGN CONTRIBUTIONS

WASHINGTON, April 15.—Senator Tillman said tonight that he expected to make some remarks in the senate tomorrow on his resolution directing the committee on privileges and elections to make an investigation of the charge that national banks contributed to the Republican campaign funds in 1896.

DIED.

McMILLEN—On Sunday, April 15, 1906, at 8:30 p. m., at Wilkinsburg, Pa., ELI McMILLEN, aged 78 years 4 months and 18 days.

Funeral services at the residence of his son-in-law, Mr. Frank Liston, 408 Biddle avenue, this evening at 8 o'clock. Interment at Accident, Md., on Tuesday afternoon.

THAT RAINY YESTERDAY

By PETER PRY SHEVLIN.

"Why is the Easter sky overcast?" asked Styles-Upon-Parade.
"To make you free from vanit-ee ere church!" the Weather said.
"Why is the rain a-falling when the Day means much to us?"
"To douse your hat and wilt it flat!" snarled old "Jupe" Pluvius.

Then they doffed their Easter bonnets and they stored them sad away,
And they dried the rare "creations" that met rain yesterday,
And the Easter song and sermon didn't make 'em blithe and gay:
"This hat? I think I'd call it Easter 'mourning!'"

Then Willie, with the low cuts, loud socks and pan-cake hat
Put on his dingy raincoat and his rubbers—think of that!
While Maudie doffed her peek-a-boo and then was forced to take
A dingy winter headpiece—for all outdoors was a lake!

There is scraps in every household, not a joy on Easter day;
Cooped in the house with brand new hat is torture every way!
And men are trembling at the rage the feminines display!
But, sport your gladsome rags this Monday morning!

SEVENTH KEARSARGE DEATH THAT OF GRAEME

Body of Wilkes-Barre Lieutenant Who Was Fatally Injured to Be Brought Home.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, April 15.—The navy department today received a telegram from Admiral Brownson reporting that Lieut. Joseph W. Graeme, gun umpire, of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., who was injured in the explosion aboard the battleship Kearsarge in Cuban waters Friday, is dead; that the condition of William King, ordinary seaman, and Frederick T. Fisher, chief gunner's mate, is grave and that all others injured in that disaster are doing well.

The death of Lieut. Graeme, which the dispatch says occurred yesterday, increases the death list from the disaster to seven persons in all, two of whom were commissioned officers.

Acting Secretary of the Navy Newberry today received a dispatch from the father of Lieut. Graeme at Wilkes-Barre, Pa., and in accordance with his wishes and those of the family of Lieut. John M. Hudgins, the other officer killed, their bodies will be sent to this country on the first available vessel.

A dispatch received at the navy department today announced that armored cruiser Maryland and the West Virginia, the flagship of the armored cruiser squadron, of which Admiral Brownson is in command, has arrived at Guantanamo, having completed their target practice.

DEATH WATCH IS PLACED.

Two Prisoners in the Allegheny County Jail to Be Hanged a Week from Tomorrow.

The death watch was placed last night on John F. Williams and Cornelius Combs, negroes, who are to be hanged on April 24 at the Allegheny county jail for murder. From this time until the hour the men are led from their cells to the gallows, they will be continually guarded. Both men say they are prepared to die.

Williams shot and killed his mother-in-law, Mrs. Mamie Quincey, on September 16 last. Williams had some words with his mother-in-law. He went to her house in Locust street and, placing his arm around her, fired three shots into her body. He then turned the weapon on his brother-in-lay, John Quincey, and shot him. The latter recovered.

Combs shot and killed Elizabeth Dickerson, January 3, 1905, because she had him arrested and fined for molesting her. Combs went to her home at 2114 Juniata street, McKeesport, and shot her through the lungs. She died the next day. George Simmons, a negro, heard the shooting and went to the woman's assistance. Combs turned his weapon on him and the bullet struck Simmons in the groin. Simmons recovered.

NOT YET CORONER'S CASE.

Morgue Ambulance Goes for Body to Find Him Still Living, but Frightfully Injured.

Trainmen on the Lake Erie railroad found what they thought was a corpse at the Clinton cross-over, in the South Side yards, last night. They sent it to the station on an engine and notified the coroner's office. Deputies George E. Mercer and Hugh Madison went after the body with the morgue ambulance. As they were about to remove the remains from the engine a groan told them that a live man was on their hands.

The deputies made a quick run to the Homeopathic hospital, where it was found that the man's left leg had been cut off at the hip and his right leg at the knee, while his scalp was also badly cut. A letter found on his persons was addressed to Felino Faxprinics, 81 West Carson street.

STICKLER FOR ETIQUETTE.

Sultan Refuses to Allow Foreigners to Witness Selamlik Ceremony, but Tenders Regrets.

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 15.—A number of distinguished persons and tourists who had been presented to the sultan by the ambassadors of their respective countries, were refused permission to witness the Selamlik ceremony Saturday, on the ground that lists containing the names of persons who desired to attend were not submitted for the sultan's approval at the usual time.

Later Abdul Hamid sent his regrets to the ambassadors.

SNYDER DIES FROM INJURIES.

Is Scalded by Steam When Engine Leaps from a Trestle.

Frank Snyder died at Mercy hospital at 10:30 o'clock Saturday night, from injuries sustained in the morning at the Edgar Thomson steel works. He was a locomotive engineer and while rounding a curve on the trestle in the yard his engine jumped the track and fell a distance of 12 feet. The boiler burst and he was scalded by the escaping steam.

The body of a man with his head crushed in was found on the Lake Erie railroad at Fleming park last night and taken to the county morgue. On the body was found a receipt for a house at 813 813 Carson street, made out to P. Fryotek.

IS BEATEN AND ROBBED ON THE RAILROAD BRIDGE

The railroad bridge between Pittsburgh and Allegheny was the scene of another hold-up Saturday night. Julius Staagel of 80 Spring Garden avenue was the victim. When he was about midway on the structure three men leaped on him, knocked him down and took $28 from him. J. A. Courtney, suspected of being one of the trio, was fined $25 and costs, or 60 days to the workhouse, at the Allegheny central station hearings yesterday.

Lovers' Quarrel Leads to Tragedy.

ERIE, PA., April 15.—(Special.)—Mannie Crump, a young mulatto, is dying at St. Vincent's hospital tonight, as the result of injuries received in a cutting affray at Minnie Brown's resort at noon today. Other inmates of the place received painful wounds, and the alleged assailant, Howard Carter, a negro, after making an unsuccessful attempt to take his life, escaped, and the police have been unable to locate him. The trouble grew out of a quarrel between Carter and the Crump woman.

Passenger Train Hits McCarthy.

Dennis McCarthy, a puddler at Moorehead company's mills, Sharpsburg, was struck by a West Penn passenger train last evening at Twelfth stret, Sharpsburg, and sustained serious injuries. He was taken to Allegheny General hospital. His home is in Woods Run.

Small Pay for Hold-Up Men.

John Lecair and Andrew Schrock of Nineteenth street were arrested late Saturday night on suspicion of being the men who held up John Baird of 3015 Penn avenue on April 4. The hold-up took place on Penn avenue, near Twenty-fifth street, and the plunder consisted of a 50-cent piece and a nail file.

LYNCH THE THIRD NEGRO

sentiment of many that the negroes should be driven from Springfield, while the feeling against the negro race was strong.

Negroes, who dared to appear on the streets today were greeted with hoots and jeers, and on several occasions men and boys collected to attack them. Both negroes and whites are armed. There was a steady demand today for firearms, and at many hardware stores it was reported that the entire stock of wepons of every sort had been sold.

A crowd of negroes assembled on the public square early tonight, and refused to disperse, but when the first company of militia arrived they sullenly scattered.

Prosecuting Attorney Roscoe Patterson, of Green county, said tonight:

"Every man implicated in this dastardly outrage, whose name I am able to learn, will be punished to the full extent of the law. The members of the mob are not law-abiding citizens. They are outlaws. They broke into the jail and besides lynching three negroes, released prisoners and thus became law-breakers by giving freedom to imprisoned criminals."

Prosecuting Attorney Patterson and Sheriff Horner are said to have secured the names of more than 100 men who took an active part in the lynching. The leaders of the mob were not disguised, but worked in the full glare of the electric light on the square.

Prosecuting Attorney Patterson made the statement tonight, that he will, tomorrow, appeal to Judge Lincoln of the criminal court to summon a special grand jury at once and make a most thorough investigation into the lynching with the purpose of prosecuting every man concerned who can be apprehended. This appeal, it is declared, will be augmented by a petition signed by hundreds of the best citizens of this community.

Many of the leading ministers in their sermons today denounced the lynching in strong terms and called upon the proper authorities to enforce the law or resign their positions.

Whites and blacks are reported as having armed themselves heavily and the negroes of the city are said to have seized 300 sticks of dynamite from a stone quarry for defense purposes if further attempt at lynching is made.

Miss Edmondson, the attack upon whom provoked the lynchings, when told of the work of vengeance, is reported to have said:

"Served them right."

Her condition is pronounced serious tonight.

The greater part of the negro population has been in hiding all day. In the negro quarters many women and children took refuge in cellars and garrets. Whole families fled to the country after having appealed to the authorities for protection.

All evening the town square has been filled with people expecting something to happen. There is a feeling that more attacks on negroes will be made. All that appears to be lacking is a leader.

Miss Edmondson said tonight, that she was positive that Copeland and Duncan, two of the negroes hanged, were not her assailants, and that she could identify her assailants if they were brought before her. It is also considered doubtful that Allen was guilty of the murder of O. M. Rouark, the confederate soldier, for which crime the mob killed him.

At midnight the militia had cleared the public square of all people. Other squads of militia are parading the negro districts. There is a feeling now that the trouble is over.

CHICAGO NEGROES ARE EXCITED BY LYNCHING

Threaten Reprisals in Southern Cities and Will Appeal to President Roosevelt.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, April 15.—Indignation that expressed itself in demands, retaliation and revenge swept the colored population of Chicago today, when the stories of the Missouri lynchings were read this morning. As a result of denunciations from the pulpits lynching and punishment of ringleaders of the mob that took the lives of the three victims will be laid at once before President Roosevelt. A demand will be made that the crime be investigated and justice visited speedily on the guilty ones.

There were frank predictions in several pulpits at negro churches that unless the fate of the Missouri negroes is avenged there will be blood shed in more than one southern city. Colored congregations were told that the time has come for the negroes to arm themselves against such crimes as that committed at Springfield, Mo., and that they should, under such circumstances shoot to kill.

At the meeting of the Chicago African Methodist Episcopal Ministerial association tomorrow resolutions will be presented denouncing the lynching and asking the President to use his offices in bringing about the punishment of the mob leaders.

WASHINGTON, April 15.—(Special.)—There is no likelihood that the President will take any action for a federal investigation of the Springfield, Mo., lynchings. His views on lynching are well known, and he would do anything within his power to make such crimes rare. The only lynching in recent years that seems to come within the federal jurisdiction is that of the negro at Chattanooga, who had been granted a reprieve by the supreme court of the United States, and who was under the protection of the United States.

FOLK DENOUNCES THEM.

Missouri Governor Declares the Lynchers of Negroes Were Guilty of Murder and Offers Reward.

JEFFERSON CITY, MO., April 15.—Gov. Joseph W. Folk in a statement today said:

"The lynching at Springfield was a most disgraceful occurrence. Whatever the offense of the negroes may have been, and however deserving of death they may have been, they were entitled to punishment by law and not by a mob, and when a mob takes the law into its own hands, as this one did, any member of it is guilty of murder.

"I will request one of the assistant attorneys general to aid the prosecuting attorney of Greene county to punish the offenders, and shall offer a reward of $300 for any information that would lead to the conviction of any member of the mob."

Chases Boys With a Knife.

John Smart of Upland street and Tony Barber of 6724 Lincoln avenue were arrested yesterday. Smart was chasing some boys with an open knife in Lincoln avenue, and when the officers arrested him Barber attempted to rescue the prisoner.

GORKY IS DRIVEN INTO SECLUSION

Refused Quarters at Three Hotels—Russian and Actress Give It Up.

STILL SAYS SHE'S HIS WIFE

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau, Herald Building, Herald Square, NEW YORK, April 15.

Hurt beyond words at what he considers the unjust attitude assumed in certain quarters toward himself and Mme. Andreieva, whom he insists is his wife, Maxim Gorky, turned away from three hotels in one day, has gone into retirement. At 11:30 o'clock Saturday night he was compelled to leave the Hotel Rhinelander after being refused accommodations at the Lafayette-Brevoort, where he and his party had gone upon leaving the Belleclaire.

He went to "Club A," at No. 3 Fifth avenue, a co-operative home for sociological students, where he spent the night. This morning Gorky and Mme. Andreieva, accompanied by friends, drove to the Grand Central station and took a train for some place that has not been revealed.

It is not known how long the author will remain in seclusion, but many of his friends are urging him to prepare a detailed statement regarding his relations with the former actress, so that all may see that she is, as he asserts, really his wife. "The Russian government and its secret police recognize my marriage to Mme. Andreieva," said Gorky, speaking with some bitterness. "Why, then, should there be a question over the matter here?

"I cannot believe that my wife and I are being sacrificed through a desire for cheap sensationalism on the part of a certain section of the American press. But if it be not due to that then it is owing to the work of emissaries of the Russian government. She is my wife—my wife in every sense of the word. Should that not be sufficient?"

Since Gorky's arrival in this country he has been under the constant espionage of Russian spies. Not alone have his movements and his words been made the subject matter of reports to St. Petersburg and the Russian embassy at Washington, but there have also been detailed summaries made as to the effect he has produced upon the American public, and the chances for success of the movement he has come to propagate.

Robert Watchorn, commissioner of immigration, said today that as soon as his attention was officially called to the fact that the woman with Gorky is not his wife and that the two had falsely entered the country, he would be compelled to place the matter before Secretary Metcalfe for his ruling.

MME. GORKY SILENT.

Novelist's Wife in Southern Russia Has Not Yet Given Version of Divorce Story.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 15.—Mme. Gorky is in southern Russia, and her version of the question of a divorce from her husband, the novelist, has not yet been obtained. Maxim Gorky's friendship with Mme. Andreieva is of more recent date than was supposed.

As late as 1903 the novelist, with his wife and two children, toured the Caucasus. The children are boys, aged 5 and 8 years.

ENGINE BOILER BLOWS UP.

Engineer Is Dead and Fireman in Hospital Suffering from Terrible Burns.

COATESVILLE, PA., April 15.—Charles Rank, engineer, was instantly killed, and Barton Weiser, fireman, is in the Coatesvill hospital suffering with terrible burns as a result of the explosion of the boiler of locomotive No. 993, on the Trenton cut-off of the Pennsylvania railroad, near Frazer, last night. Both are from Columbia.

The accident occurred while the train was moving along at a good rate. Rank was found dead 200 yards away and Weiser was found walking about bewildered. His face was badly cut and burned.

MINISTER'S DAUGHTER TO WED.

Engagement Announced at Birthday Dinner of Brother, Also Minister.

The engagement of Miss Lydia Brand to Leonard J. Seifferth, a well-known young business man, was announced last night at a dinner at the home of the young lady's father, the Rev. P. Brand, in South Eighteenth street. Thirty persons sat at the dinner, including the members of both families.

The gathering was also a celebration of the birthday anniversary of the Rev. William Brand, son of the Rev. P. Brand. The father is pastor of the First St. Paul's German Evangelical Lutheran church on the South Side, and the son is the pastor of the Second St. Paul's church, in Pride street.

NOT SAFE TO GO ARMED IN PITTSBURGH'S STREETS

Carrying concealed weapons, such as stilettos, daggers, blackjacks and revolvers, is being discouraged by the Pittsburgh police, as several men found out yesterday. At Central station Frank Sherom, James Setrom, John Dede and William Rose were held for court; Edward Sharon was fined $50 and Angelo Ross, Anthony Ward, John Calabrese and Ludwig Motzgar were each fined $25 and costs. At the Penn avenue police station James Martin and Frank Gemore were each fined $25 and costs.

SAYS HE WAS THROWN FROM SECOND STORY WINDOW

Harry Kirk, John McMinnis and Frank Mabuel, said to be railroaders, were before Magistrate Kane yesterday morning on a rather unusual charge. J. W. Caldwell alleged the men took him to a vacant house at 125 Forty-fifth street and after trying to rob him threw him out of a second-story window. Kirk and McMinnis were given 30 days to the workhouse without the option of a fine and Mabuel was sent to jail for 10 days. Caldwell was fined $1 for drunkenness.

WALLACE IS AN ARBITRATOR IN GRAND TRUNK DISPUTE

NEW YORK, April 15.—John F. Wallace, formerly chief engineer of the Panama canal, has been selected as the third arbitrator in the dispute regarding wages between the Grand Trunk railway and its engineers. Mr. Wallace has gone to Montreal, where a meeting will be held tomorrow. The other two arbitrators are Wallace Nesbitt, Toronto, a railroad man, and P. H. Morrissey of Cleveland, an official of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

Persistent Callers Get Into a House by Climbing Through Second-Story Windows.

MANY RAIDS IN TWO CITIES

"Dinner is served," announced two pretty handmaidens at the home of Joseph Broski, in the rear of 2812 Penn avenue yesterday afternoon. Eight male guests started for the table, which was loaded down with good things to eat and also to drink, but a squad of police beat them to it, and the party went hungry to the police station.

Mrs. Mary Sullivan of 4 Stockholm street announced she was not receiving yesterday. The police did not stop to send in cards, but shinned up a back shed, went through a second-story window, broke down a door and paid their respects. Mrs. Sullivan walked to the police station, because when the police called two weeks ago the patrol wagon broke down on a steep grade, and it was decided to take no chances this time.

At A. Bizarri's restaurant and lodging house, 1907 Webster avenue, 47 men were captured. The police counted 164 bottles of Chianti in the house, besides a quantity of other foreign liquors. Others places visited were 1309 Webster avenue, where the proprietor and nine men were found; rear of 20 Tunnel street, contributing Mary Petitto and four men; 21 Shingiss street, where Mary Holmes and six visitors were collected; 10 Third avenue, William Gordon and nine visitors, and 47½ Washington street, where Lena Irvin and four men were arrested.

Jack and Charles McClelland, charged with being the proprietors of a gambling house in LaPlace street, and nine visitors were arrested.

At Central station yesterday morning Lale Erckole was fined $50 for keeping a disorderly house in Webster avenue, and 15 men were fined $5 each. Mary Reilly was fined $10 and May Brooks $50. Eight women and nine men found in similar resorts were fined anywhere from $5 to $25 apiece.

Allegheny police were busy early yesterday morning. Laura Gray of Arbuckles alley, one girl, Clarence Martin of Bakerstown and Robert Gray of Ross street, Pittsburgh, and two other men were arrested. The proprietor was fined $100, the girl $10, Martin and Gray $25 each and the other men $10 each. At Ada Pearl Meyers' house, River avenue, the proprietor, two girls and 10 men were taken. The proprietor was fined $100, the girls $10 and the men $5 each. Mrs. A. R. Miller's alleged speakeasy in East Robinson street, which she had previously been ordered to close, was visited and Mrs. Miller and two men arrested. Mrs. Miller was fined $50 and the men discharged.

WEAVER AND LAWYERS WILL GO OVER FILTRATION DATA

PHILADELPHIA, April 15.—(Special.)—Within 10 days startling developments are promised in connection with the alleged filtration contract frauds. The three lawyers selected by the committee of 70 to review the evidence and decide whether there is cause for criminal charges, will study the data now in Mayor Weaver's hands. These lawyers, former Attorney General William U. Hensel, Theodore F. Jenkins and William A. Glasgow, will confer with Mayor Weaver tomorrow.

Four Candidates Now in Field.

GREENSBURG, PA., April 15.—(Special.)—The announcement of the candidacy of Attorney John T. Moore of the Allegheny and Westmoreland county bars for district attorney has increased interest in the four cornered contest. Moore is a son of George Moore, the glass manufacturer of Arnold. He has law offices in Pittsburgh and Arnold. The other candidates are John F. Wentling, Jr., supported by the county organization; W. T. Dom, Jr., and Nevin Cort, backed by Mt. Pleasant politicians.

Well-Known Cleveland Clergyman Dead.

CLEVELAND, O., April 15.—The Rev. Edward William Worthington, for 18 years rector of Grace Episcopal church of this city, and one of the best known Episcopal clergymen in Ohio, died at his home here early today of pneumonia, after three weeks' illness. He was born in Batavia, N. Y., in 1853, and came here in 1888 from Mount Morris, N. Y., of which parish he became rector after his graduation from Berkeley Theological seminary at New Haven, Conn.

GUFFEY MACHINE PUT IN MOTION

Preliminary Arrangements Are to Be Made for the Nomination of a Governor.

HAS CORNER ON BOSSISM

Col. J. M. Guffey will set his Democratic political machine in motion this week at Harrisburg, when on Wednesday he will have the state committee select a chairman and fix a date for the convention. While he has a candidate for governor picked, the national committeeman is not ready to take the public into his confidence.

Wednesday the Democratic state committeemen will talk about bossism and denounce the Republicans as ringsters. The people will be told the Democracy alone can be trusted with the safety of the commonwealth. The committeemen will then elect the chairman the colonel tags and fix the date of the state convention on the day he selects. They will scatter to their homes and proceed to elect state delegates to be held subject to the wishes of the colonel. When the time comes he will name the candidate, and his orders will be obeyed. Then the candidate will go on the stump and say his selection was providential.

How different is the situation in the Republican camp. There is no bossism. With the state convention fixed for June 6 there is not a man in Pennsylvania who can name the gubernatorial nominee. A majority of the delegates have been elected, but few of them have been instructed. They are ready to go into the convention and pick the man best suited to carry the standard this fall.

Three Avowed Candidates.

There are but three Republicans in the state who are openly in the field for the gubernatorial nomination. They are Col. L. A. Watres of Scranton, Robert S. Murphy of Johnstown and Congressman Elias Deemer of Williamsport. Col. Watres has been the most active and will go to Harrisburg with a good many delegates. Mr. Murphy has several counties to his credit, and the same is true of Mr. Deemer.

While the three men are actual candidates, there are countless others who have been "mentioned." In Allegheny county there has been talk of Francis L. Robbins, Judge Joseph Buffington of the United States district court, and Judge James S. Young of the common pleas bench. While Congressman E. F. Acheson has repeatedly said he was not a candidate for the nomination, his friends in Washington county continue to keep close tab on the situation for him. There is still some talk of Col. W. A. Andrews of Crawford county and the friends of Charles W. Stone of Warren hope the tide will turn his way. Fayette county has strong timber in Josiah V. Thompson. Lawrence county may have a candidate in Lieut.-Gov. W. M. Brown. For a time Congressman George F. Huff of Greensburg was among the possibilities, but he has dropped out of the running.

Much Talk of Stewart.

There has been much talk about Justice John Stewart of the supreme court bench. He has not given any intimation that he would accept the nomination. He may be the nominee and at the same time there is a strong possibility that his name will not even go before the convention. Delaware county has instructed for State Treasurer W. L. Mathues, but this was doubtless for the purpose of keeping the delegates from State Senator William C. Sproul. In Dauphin county live two men who are willing to become candidates, Congressman M. E. Olmsted, and State Senator John E. Fox. Should the nominee come to the west, Mr. Fox will endeavor to secure second place.

Guffey has been determined for some time to nominate a straight Democrat, and it is known the man is selected. There has been a good deal of effort to have him take up ex-Mayor Vance C. McCormick of Harrisburg. The colonel has given no intimation that McCormick will receive his O. K. The chances are against this, as McCormick has a remarkably well-developed bump of independence.

In connection with the McCormick candidacy it is interesting to note that Dr. Silas C. Swallow, the leading Prohibitionist of the state, is not considering Homer L. Castle as gubernatorial timber. Swallow is advocating a union of forces and the nomination of McCormick for governor. He is willing to give Castle second place on the ticket.

Kline Wants Nomination.

Congressman M. C. L. Kline of Allentown, the one Pennsylvania Democrat in the present congress, would like to be the nominee of his party for governor. Kline thinks it would help his candidacy to have the state convention held in Allentown, and the proposition will be made to the state committee. He is said to have promise of the support of the delegates from Lehigh, Berks, Northampton and Carbon counties.

The Prohibitionists have arranged to hold their state convention in Harrisburg on May 23. Castle believes he will secure the nomination. The next day the Lincoln party will hold a convention in Philadelphia. Lewis Emery of Bradford and Henry Niles of York are discussed as candidates. Ex-Judge Gordon of Philadelphia, who represents the Democratic end of the Wanamaker interests, is willing to take a nomination. Guffey is opposed to putting him on the Democratic ticket, as the sarcastic Philadelphian and the colonel cannot be made to mix.

The conventions of the other parties will have been held when Guffey brings his delegates together. Effort will be made to shape the course of the opponents of the Republicans to suit the purposes of the colonel. His hope is to have a Democrat indorsed by the Lincoln party and the Prohibitionists, and it remains to be seen whether he has the power to pull the necessary strings.

ARREST CORNER LOAFERS.

Allegheny Police Inaugurate Crusade Against Petty Violations of City Ordinances.

A crusade has been inaugurated by the Allegheny police against corner-loafing, expectorating on the sidewalk and petty violations of city ordinances. It has long been the practice of young men to gather on the corners and insult women as they passed.

Christ Billet of 1415 Sandusky street, Andrew Hunt of 767 Second street and August Clouse of 904 Madison avenue were the first to be gathered in. They were standing on the corner of Madison avenue last night when the patrol wagon took them in.

Return of "The Prince Chap."

Theater-goers of Pittsburgh will be delighted to learn that Cyril Scott will return next week to the Belasco in Edward Peple's successful play, "The Prince Chap," which was seen here earlier in the season, and which was declared to be the biggest kind of a success by all the Pittsburgh dramatic critics. Little Helen Pullman, the noted child-actress, is still appearing in the part of "Claudia," in the first act of "The Prince Chap," as are Edith Speare and Miss Grayce Scott in the following acts.

Secure Nucleus for Building Fund.

At a rally in Bethel A. M. E. church, Wylie avenue and Elm street, last night, the first step was taken toward raising funds for the erection of a new church, which is to occupy the present site. A total of $1,634 40 was turned in as a nucleus for a building fund. It is intended to erect an edifice to cost between $25,000 and $30,000. At the services in the morning the sermon was preached by the Rev. C. S. Gee, presiding elder of the Cincinnati district, and at 3 the pulpit was occupied by the Rev. J. W. Jeffries of Clarksburg, W. Va. The Rev. W. B. Anderson, presiding elder of the Pittsburgh district, preached last night.

Must Not Shoot Craps.

James Kennedy of 12 Acorn street, was arrested at Second and Greenfield avenues yesterday for shooting craps.

FIRST SUGGESTOR OF CONSTITUTION

Petrunkevich, Who Shocked the Czar in Early Days, to Preside Over Douma.

HAS BEEN IDOL OF LIBERALS

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

ST. PETERSBURG, April 15.—Petrunkevich, who as the accepted candidate of the Constitutional Democrats, will be president of the Douma, early in life for his outspoken declarations in favor of measures to educate and lift up the ignorant peasantry aroused hostility among the bureaucrats of St. Petersburg and was dismissed from the Zemstvo service, exiled from his native province and forbidden to live in either of the two capitals, St. Petersburg or Moscow. He then took up his residence in the government of Tver, where he acquired an estate in the district of Torjok and at once became active in the affairs of the Zemstvo of the province. It was not long before the Zemstvo of Tver, under his inspiration, became renowned as the most advanced of all the Zemstvos in Russia.

After the death of Alexander III. the incident occurred which made Petrunkevich's name resound throughout the country. Upon the accession of Nicholas II. all the Zemstvos sent addresses with felicitations for the young monarch, condolences for the loss of the late emperor and best wishes for a long and prosperous reign. The address of the Zemstvo of Tver, however, was an extraordinary document.

Made Bold Declaration.

While repeating the felicitations and formulas of the other Zemstvos, it added that for the welfare of Russia the new monarch should give a constiution to his people, expressing the opinion that only thus could Russia flourish. "A continuance of the old regime," it said, "will lead the country to perdition." This was the first time that the word constitution could be said to have been openly pronounced in Russia and Petrunkevich with Rodechoff were the authors of that historic document. It, with the other addresses, were formally presented to the emperor November 20, 1896, when he received the deputation of nobles and Zemstvoists.

Amid grand pomp all those who had presented addresses to the emperor were assembled. Petrunkevich headed the deputation from Tver. Timid, pale with emotion, the youthful emperor touched the question of his future policy lightly, saying only that he would follow step by step the policy of his dead father. And then he reached the phrase which was to become historic. While thanking the Zemstvos for their patriotism, the emperor added that one among them—the Zemstvo of Tver—had not realized his confidence.

Only a Senseless Dream.

"It has permitted itself to speak of a constitution. That, gentlemen, is a senseless dream," said the emperor.

Those words, reproduced in all the papers throughout Russia, drew all eyes to Petrunkevich and made him celebrated. He became in a day the idol of the Liberals, and has since been in the forefront of all liberal movements and has been received again and better appreciated by the czar.

During the riotous days of November, 1905, Petrunkevich headed the Zemstvo deputation to Count Witte. Later, when the electoral campaign began, Petrunkevich took an active part and stood for the Douma in his adopted province of Tver as a candidate of the Constitutional Democrats.

He took part in the sittings of the council of ministers in December, 1905, to discuss the election laws, and in January, 1906, was the chairman of the first national convention of Constitutional Democrats, which met at St. Petersburg, and from that time on he rapidly became known as the most likely candidate for the presidency of the national assembly.

In the last municipal elections, when the opposition was concentrated against him, he was elected by an overwhelming majority.

CELEBRATES RETURN HOME BY ABUSING HIS WIFE

A. J. Matson of Morgan street, South Side, was given five months to the workhouse yesterday morning at No. 7 police station on a charge of abusing his wife early Sunday morning. Mrs. Matson said her husband has for a number of years been leaving home and going out west, and on his return home he would knock her down and kick her without any cause.

Leg Is Dislocated During Fight.

During a fight in a pool room at 5111 Penn avenue Saturday night, Charles Morrison of 722 Hazelwood avenue sustained a broken leg. Dan Marks and Charles Dixon, said to have been prominent in the conflict, were arrested. At the hearing yesterday their case was postponed until April 20, pending the result of Morrison's injury.

CELEBRATE FORTIETH ANNIVERSAY OF BIRTH

North Avenue M. E. Church and Sunday School Two Score Years Old.

The fortieth anniversary of the North Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, Allegheny, was celebrated yesterday with services at which former members and officers delivered addresses. The principal meeting was held in the evening when A. D. Sharpe, Albert A. Horne, George A. Riddle, E. A. Young and the Rev. Dr. Charles W. Blodgett talked on the past, present and future of the two organizations.

In the afternoon at 2 o'clock, the Sunday school held its anniversary services. The addresses were by A. M. Schoyer, who was superintendent for 18 years; Albert A. Horne, a former superintendent, and George D. Riddle, son of George R. Riddle, who was the first superintendent. Superintendent Edward A. Young, Miss Sue E. Lytle, Miss Helen R. Persian and George E. Hemphill, officers of the school, also gave talks. A double orchestra of 42 pieces furnished the musical part of the program. A collection of $600 for missions was raised.

The North Avenue church was first started in 1866 by 30 members of the old Beaver Street church, now the Arch Street church. The Sunday school was started several months after the church. It is now the largest in Western Pennsylvania, and has a total enrollment of 1,850 scholars.

A Review of Our Collection of Spring and Summer Black and Colored Dress Woolens.

Only Four Days More.

ANDERSON'S GRAND CANYON OF THE YELLOWSTONE.

The changes of day and night effects in the picture are marvelous. Don't miss it. Picture Galleries, fourth floor, West.

The central point around which all our efforts revolve is that of lowest prices. That our prices are lowest is evidenced every day by verbal proof from the lips of many customers who have been around.

Variety here means everything new in texture that has been bought at home and abroad for Spring and Summer of 1906.

In the Black Goods Division.

There is no end of new mourning materials, but they are not taking precedence over old favorites. There are a number of different shades of black, but the true jet black, or mourning black is, as always, the style. For hard wear there are dull veilings, very sombre in appearance and light in weight. Then there is the favorite Henrietta cloth. A dull black cheviot has been admitted to the list of materials for street wear. The various crepes are well represented, as well as other weaves. The list following will give a good idea of our collection of blacks:

Black All-Wool Chiffon Voile	75c to $2.00 yd.	All-Wool Cheviots	75c to $2.10 yd.
All-Wool Crisp Medium Mesh Voile	$1.00 to $2.50 yd.	All-Wool Crepeline	$1.00 to $1.25 yd.
Silk Warp Crepe Cloth	$1.25 to $2.50 yd.	All-Wool Crepe de Chine	$1.25 to $1.50 yd.
Silk Warp Melrose Cloth	$1.50 to $2.00 yd.	All-Wool Armure Suiting	$1.00 to $1.25 yd.
Silk Warp Henrietta Cloth	$1.25 to $2.50 yd.	All-Wool Tamise Cloth	75c to $1.25 yd.
Tropical Serge	$1.25 to $2.00 yd.	Silk Warp Cloisette	$1.25 to $2.00 yd.
All-Wool Challies	75c to $1.25 yd.	Mohair Sicilian	75c to $2.00 yd.
		English Mohair	50c to $1.50 yd.

In the Colored Dress Goods Division.

This has been a phenomenal season in Colored Dress Goods—every week makes a new record. There is only one way to account for this, exceptionally large assortments, exceptionaly low prices. Herewith are some evidences of lowest prices:

Gray Tailor Suitings—new and fashionable effects—queen's gray, medium and dark gray checks, stripes and overplaids—44 to 54 inches wide—65c to $2.50 a yard.

38-inch Worsted Shepherd Checks, all the new plain and broken effects, light colors, very special at 45c a yard.

ON SPECIAL TABLE—2,000 yards high-grade Dress Stuffs—$1.25 and $1.00 goods—including Check Panama Suitings, English Fancy Mohairs, Imported Mohair Serges, green and blue Check Voiles, Gray Panamas, Silk and Wool Crepe de Paris, and our special price, a yard, is.....65c

Novelties in Imported Dress Cottons.

As novel as anything to be found, and decidedly pretty, too. The most admirable fabrics we know of for making up into chic Summer dresses. All are becomingly priced, which means the prices are along the popular plane. Some of the pretty fabrics and their prices—

EMBROIDERED VOILES, in black and white check grounds. These make up handsomely. Nothing richer. Prices range from $1.25 yard up to $2.00.

EMBROIDERED MOHAIR SWISSES, white and colored grounds, beautifully embroidered in contrasting colors, one of Fashion's most pronounced favorites. Prices range from 50c a yard to $1.00.

EMBROIDERED FRENCH MULLS, white and colored grounds, a dainty stuff for separate waist and shirt-waist suit. Prices range from 75c a yard to $2.00.

SPECIAL OFFER—About 1,000 yards Embroidered Swisses, 44 inches wide, colored grounds embroidered in contrasting colors—goods that have sold for $1.00 and $1.25 a yard, special today at, a yard..... 50c

Inexpensive White Dress Cottons.

Here are some white dress cottons that are very pretty and the prices are very pretty.

12½c Checked Dimities, 12½c India Linons, 12½c Linen Finished Suiting	10c a yard.
15c Checked Dimities, 15c Dotted Swisses, 15c India Linen	12½c a yard.
35c White Piques, 25c White Dotted Swisses, 25c White French Linens	18c a yard.
50c White Mercerized Waistings, 36c White French Lawns, 35c White Linen Cambric, yard wide.	25c a yard.
50c Persian Lawns, a beautiful white material, full 45 inches wide, special at	40c a yard.
75c White Embroidered Swisses, 65c White Dotted Swisses	50c a yard.

Some Praise for Our Dress Linings.

Dress Lining is one of the essentials of dress-making. Granted, that sometimes Fashion takes a notion to get along without them, but it isn't very long till she is coddling the lining and saying, "What a good thing it is." Linings are again popular. We are selling three and four times as many as we did a year ago this time.

No lining is here that we cannot stand back of—we'll guarantee any yard that comes over the Lining Counter.

SPLENDID COLLECTIONS OF PERCALINES, MERCERIZED SATINES, SILKS, SATIN SERGES, SATINE, HEATHERBLOOM, PRES DE SOIE.

These are shown in all the best colors, including black and white.

Our prices are always the lowest—that's the general principle of the store: To quote lower prices than any place in town.

In Our Section Devoted to Unmade Robes.

At rear of Sixth Aisle, on a sort of a dais, is our division for the display of Unmade Robes—those filmy garments that women admire so much and in which they are to be so much admired. The lace robe or the robe that washes, it is immaterial, is one that is full of grace, one that is, indeed, regal.

And the fine point about the unmade robe is that it is all put together substantially, so that with a little fitting and a little sewing the gown is ready in a short time. Then you have a gown for any occasion, a gown that is in the height of style.

Embroidered Batiste Robes—pink, blue, lavender—$12 to $35.

White Batiste Robes, $10.00 to $35.00.

Hand-Embroidered Linen Robes, $12.50 to $85.00.

SPECIAL—White Batiste Robes, trimmed in lace and embroidery, $5.00, $6.00, $8.00.

Pt. d'Esprit Robes—white, pink, blue—$10.00 to $25.00.

White and Black Lace Robes, $20.00 to $35.00.

White and Black Marquise Robes, $75.00 to $100.00.

Black Arabian Robes, $75.00 to $100.00.

Our Great Collection of New Silks.

No section of the store so ably illustrates the fact that our prices are always lowest as our Silk Division. Here any day in the week the customer after silks can always find pretty and stylish silks for very special prices, and on certain days we have silks out for extra special prices. We commend to your attention the following list of underpriced silks:

Colored Silks—

Fancy Gun-metal effects in Taffeta and Louisines—nothing smarter for Spring and Summer dress—$1.00 grade, 75c a yard.

Dotted Crepe de Chene, crinkled effects, big range of solid colors—nice for both street and evening wear—75c goods—special at 45c a yard.

Peau de Cygne, a soft and lustrous all-silk fabric—desirable colors for waists and dresses—45c a yard.

Black Silks—

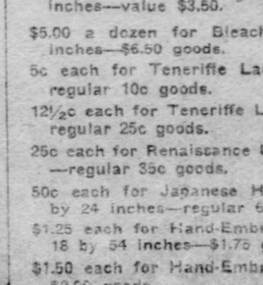
1,200 yards Black Pongee, rough weave, known as Pungapori and Kediva, a splendid material for coats and coat suits—sold regularly for $1.50 and $1.75—special today 65c a yard.

Yard wide Black Taffeta, bright and lustrous, for linings and other uses, even to the making of a dress—85c grade—for 65c a yard.

Unmade Shirtwaist Patterns.

Same principle as the unmade robe, little sewing to do before you have a shirtwaist that would cost three times as much were you to buy it ready made. These are made of batiste and the finishes are embroidery and lace.

$1.25 Shirtwaist Patterns	at $ .85
$2.00 Shirtwaist Patterns	at $1.50
$3.50 Shirtwaist Patterns	at $2.50
$4.00 Shirtwaist Patterns	at $2.75



Beginning today in our Hosiery Division Mrs. Sears will point out daily until further notice the good points of the Burson Seamless Hosiery.

These are the only stockings made without a seam that retain their orginal shape after being worn. The Stockings sell for 25c and 35c a pair.

Do You Prefer to Pay Less for Your Table Linens?

If you will step in our Linen Division today we'll take great pleasure in demonstrating to you, not theoretically, but practically, why it is we are enabled to sell household linens for less prices than anywhere in Western Pennsylvania.

50c a yard for Bleached Table Damask—62 inches—regular 65c goods.

75c a yard for Bleached Table Damask—68 inches wide—regular 90c goods.

$1.00 a yard for Bleached Table Damask—70 inches wide—regular $1.25 goods.

$1.25 a yard for Bleached Table Damask—72 inches wide—$1.50 goods.

Monday, April 16, 1906.

There is every prospect for a good year in building for Pittsburgh. Plans are well forward for a variety of structures in the downtown section and for a vast number in other portions of the city. Unless some untoward circumstance intervenes the record for this year will come near the top both in the number of buildings and in total cost. This marks substantial growth and indicates the general confidence in stability of conditions.

Two men were gathered in for spitting in the street cars on Saturday, and one of them was lodged in a cell all night. This sort of enforcement of the law will bring reform in time. The disgusting habit must be broken. After this is accomplished attention may be given to the brutes who blow foul smoke into the nostrils of other people. This latter practice is probably less unsanitary than the former, but not less offensive to sensitive persons. It is bad manners to give offense to others.

While the awful accident on board the Kearsarge is to be deplored it must be accepted as an incident in the art of warfare. Target practice is but one removed from actual war and is a necessary preparation for efficient fighting. It cannot be conducted without attendant danger. The lives sacrificed on such occasions are in the line of duty and may serve to prevent greater losses in real conflict. Regret the sacrifice as we may, we can hardly go the length of decrying the gun exercises for proficiency.

Some strong contrasts are shown in politics. For example, West Virginia threatens to defeat Stephen B. Elkins for re-election to the United States senate because he has not been enthusiastic for rate regulation without court review; Ohio is booming Joseph Benson Foraker for President, though Senator Foraker has been openly opposed to any railroad rate bill. Ohio and West Virginia join in the middle of the Ohio river for a distance of many miles. Ohio has a 2-cent fare law—not Foraker's—West Virginia has none, but is thinking about it.

Unless American ships are encouraged by substantial subsidy, Japan will control the commerce of the Pacific. This is the verdict of those who have given the subject careful study and are in position to make prediction with some confidence. It is odd that such strong prejudice against the word subsidy and against the thing should persist in this country, when it is well known other maritime nations are gaining supremacy on the sea through that very means. Is there any nation that can better afford the outlay than this?

The new armored cruiser Pennsylvania has proved herself worthy of the distinguished name she bears. As the state has won for itself a name and fame for progress among the states, and has attained a primacy in industrial development her sea fighting namesake has scored the world's record in six-inch gun target practice, recently made in West Indian waters. Seventeen shots, each one a bull's eye, in ninety seconds is the splendid accomplishment of this noble war vessel. From this performance the navy department will expect great things of the Pennsylvania should she ever be called upon to try her skill on a real enemy.

When James Gay Gordon, as private counsel to Mayor Weaver of Philadelphia, withdrew from the legal complications over that city's filtration contract he professed to turn over the question of criminal prosecutions to District Attorney Bell. The latter intimated the former judge quit because he knew no criminal action would lie on the alleged evidence. Now the committee of seventy has employed counsel to investigate and the public may learn the truth. Mr. Gordon worked the lead for all the political capital that was in it; there is no reason why he should jeopardize any of his legal reputation bringing suits not necessary to secure the prize.

Bishop J. W. Bashford of the Methodist Episcopal church, who has just returned from China, presents what may be regarded as an authoritative and unprejudiced account of conditions in that country. Traveling 5,000 miles through China since the American boycott was instituted, he did not witness a single manifestation of hostility on the part of the natives. Local causes, he declares, were responsible for the three riots which have occurred in the empire during the past year. The authorities fear the power of foreign governments and will discourage another Boxer uprising. The present unrest, apparently, is not wholly attributable to anti-foreign feeling.

An English committing magistrate declares he has sent but three bald-headed men to prison in his 22 years of service. An English doctor avers the bald are unknown in the insane asylums. Former Gov. Andrew J. Curtin announced this truth 20 years ago when welcoming a squad of bald-heads to the "front row" in a political meeting. All of this should make the bald-headed men glad. Summer is approaching and they know the flies will be around. The small boy will continue to scoff at the shining dome. But the law of compensation works somehow and the man who goes bare-footed on the top of his head avoids getting "pinched" and never gets "bughouse."

An appreciative critic of Dr. Hutchinson's new cult that "plain Anglo-Saxon common sense is also good science" when applied to food, reasons upon this line that the average healthy man can be trusted to select those articles of diet that will do the most good. There is too much dieting prescribed by learned persons these days which, in most cases, amounts to starving or embodies the gastronomic peculiarities of the prescriber. It is reasonable to assume nature knows best what is good for a man when she plants a longing for certain foods within him. Intelligent individual discrimination is the best safeguard. What we like and what agrees with us can be eaten with perfect safety when partaken without gluttony.

A report comes from Christiania, Norway, of two important inventions in connection with the iron and steel industry. Two engineers are alleged to have found new methods for producing iron direct from the ore. By one system the ore is crushed to fine dust and the iron drawn out by the aid of strong magnets, after which it is molded into brick form. The other method takes for the same purpose electric power. A company which owns these patents is said to have contracted with French, German and Italian firms for the production of from two to three million tons of steel and iron a year. There is no information at hand giving any result of these methods when employed on a large scale. Similar efforts, we believe, have been tried in this country with final failure to do the work promised.

And Other Business

On Wednesday the Democratic state committee will meet in Harrisburg to fix a date for the state convention, to select a chairman and to transact other business. The date of the Democratic convention is not of great interest to the general public, but the selection of a chairman of the committee and the "other business" excite some curiosity. The other business will include instructions to the committeemen on the slated ticket for the party.

Charles J. Donnelly, chairman of the Philadelphia city Democratic committee is oftenest mentioned as successor to James K. P. Hall of Elk county, who has officiated as Democratic state chairman for some years, but who declines longer to carry the burden and wear the honor. Mr. Donnelly is not unknown to fame. He and Mr. Ryan have long had a monopoly of the Democratic party in the Quaker city, except former Judge James Gay Gordon. For years it was charged they were subservient to Israel Durham, but Donnelly wiped out the stain by getting on the other band wagon last year, and going with the more successful show. Having thus proved his Democracy and his loyalty to the opportunist party, he is more popular "up the state."

In the mater of candidates the Democracy is more sorely troubled. If Donnelly is not made chairman Gray Meek is willing and able to serve. But if any mistake is made in picking candidates the Prohibition wing may flap alone. Dr. Silas Swallow, sometime Prohibition leader, has served notice that Prohibition votes are not to be had for "any old Democrat" and the good doctor, at the least, controls his own. Being a Harrisburger, Dr. Swallow boosts former Mayor Vance McCormick of that town, and it must be said he could have gone farther to fare worse. Swallow, however, is not boss of the Democratic party and he will not sit in the Democratic committee.

The important end of the Democratic show is vested in the hands of Col. James McClurg Guffey of Pittsburgh. Col. Guffey owns the party and controls its destinies. He is not obtruding the fact on public notice, but what he whispers to the committeemen in Harrisburg will be the law for the party of Jefferson and Jackson, of Cleveland and Bryan. If Col. Guffey wants Mr. Donnelly for chairman, the Philadelphian will win. If Col. Guffey desires McCormick as a candidate for governor the former mayor is as good as nominated. If Col. Guffey is favorable to Castle for lieutenant governor, the Democracy will go along if it has to take a keg for a mascot. In this situation speculation is useless. Col. Guffey holds the fate of Pennsylvania Democracy in his own hand, and he is not giving anybody a peep—not yet.

Manifested Savagery.

Two negroes arrested on suspicion, after the commission of a heinous crime, were hung and then burned, in Springfield, Mo., Saturday night. The news dispatch adds sententiously: "They probably were innocent." It is safe to assume, however, if proof of their innocence is offered no one will be punished for their murder. The victims were black, and Springfield is in the south.

One can hardly conceive of a more wanton exhibition of savagery that this lynching, in which 1,000 men took summary vengeance upon two defenseless wretches. The crime for which they were arrested deserves punishment by death, we may admit, but nothing can justify infliction of the penalty, in the manner in which it was inflicted, in a civilized country. Innocent or guilty, those two men were entitled to fair trial and due process of law.

We well know the argument that is advanced to excuse lynching of negroes in the south. It is that if summary vengeance were not taken for such crimes against the person no woman would ever be safe in that part of the country. The argument rests on a false assumption. It is a relic of the slavery times, when every master administered punishment in his own discretion. Punishment of the guilty after due process of law has far greater restraining influence. Summary vengeance wrought against an innocent man simply arouses passion and rabid hatred. It is savagery.

Sport Versus Business.

A British correspondent in China writes to a London journal in lines of sorrow over the superiority of the German agents at Shanghai compared to the indifferent exertions of the British representatives. The matter has come to such a pass that some British manufacturers are transferring their agencies to German firms, all of which has sorely wounded the English pride of the correspondent. Judging from the details he gives as to the cause of German preference, he has relative grounds for complaint. The German is an up and doing fellow in business affairs. The average merchant in Shanghai, we are told, is quite content to sit down and wait for business to walk in, but the Teuton is out hustling for trade. Besides, they are more dependable and attentive than their English rivals. The Englishman generally goes to China for sport, with office hours on the holiday schedule. The German, on the other hand, is noted for his application to his tasks and his temperance, necessary qualifications for success.

One of the faults of the British representative noted by his indignant countryman is that he closes his place of business from 12 to 2 o'clock every day for the purpose of standing around the club bar drinking cocktails. It is properly pointed out that it needs a high order of argument to prove that five or six of these seductive drinks in the middle of the day are conducive to business, yet this is the average all over China and Japan, if we are to place reliance in the epistolary information. It is not at all a creditable state of affairs, either, when a Shanghai club boasts of having sold a million cocktails a year, and that in a business community the total foreign population of which is 11,000, including Asiatics other than Chinese. These conditions easily explain why the steady-going German is succeeding while his brother Briton is receding in the commercial conquest of the Far East.

Tax on Wealth.

In commenting yesterday on President Roosevelt's speech on the "Man With the Muckrake," we purposely ignored one portion, for it needs separate treatment. We are inclined to think the President might better have followed the same plan. His address, in the main, dealt with the evil of sensationalism as manifested in indiscriminate attacks upon men and institutions. This portion suggests a new policy to prevent inordinate accumulations of wealth. The President expressed it as follows:

> As a matter of personal conviction, and without pretending to discuss the details or formulate the system, I feel that we shall ultimately have to consider the adoption of some such scheme as that of a progressive tax on all fortunes, beyond a certain amount, either given in life or devised or bequeathed upon death to any individual—a tax so framed as to put it out of the power of the owner of one of these enormous fortunes to hand over more than a certain amount to any one individual; the tax, of course, to be imposed by the national and not the state government. Such taxation should, of course, be aimed merely at the inheritance or transmission in their entirety of those fortunes swollen beyond all healthy limits.

In this paragraph Mr. Roosevelt proposes something that has never been attempted in just this form, we believe, by any government. He may cite as precedent for the principle involved the American limitation of entail upon estates, the purpose being precisely the prevention of dangerous accumulations. The fathers of the republic were familiar with landed estates, but had not dreamed of the acquisition of personal property in amounts that might threaten the future welfare of the state.

The President will find many to agree with him; some to oppose his views. It need surprise no one to find some of the richest men in the country in full accord with the principle—and the President himself, discreetly refrained from going into details. Andrew Carnegie, years ago, proclaimed his belief that men of wealth should administer their fortunes during life so no huge accumulations should remain at death. John D. Rockefeller has been distributing millions for education and for other purposes, when not deterred by the cry of "tained money." In short, this has been the way of American multi-millionaires since the time of Stephen Girard, who probably wrought greater good in proportion to his means than any of them.

There are many who would go further than the President; they would, if they could, impose a progressixe tax on fortunes that would limit their growth during the life of accumulation. Great Britain, in fact, imposes a graded income tax that has its influence in restraining the accumulation of wealth. The tax is not for that purpose, nor is it a great restraint, but it might be amplified to secure that result.

At best the question is yet an academic one. It will probably be necessary to amend the Constitution of the United States before any serious attempt can be made to impose a tax in restraint of wealth. We all know how difficult a matter that is. The Constitution has been amended and it may be amended again, but experience teaches that great stress of public sentiment is essential to alteration to secure fundamental law. It was easier to secure amendment when the states numbered less than 25 and the population was smaller than now. At the same time it must be recognized that Mr. Roosevelt has projected a potent suggestion on the mental screen and developments may follow.

While the Hon. Frank A. Hopkins of Kentucky raised a row in the house the other day, he also made a strong speech for restriction of immigration.

Easter and Its Relation to Daily Life

Festival of Awakened Nature Has a Bearing on Common Experience.

By A MINISTER.

Easter is the festival of awakened nature. It therefore includes human nature, which is in truth the crown and glory of God's great life in the world. And among humans the simple Carpenter of Nazareth, the most excellent spirit of life whom the world knows, presents the most sublime truths for the church's celebration of the risen life. The church however, would no more attempt to imprison the spirit of Easter in her temples and comparatively few members, than she would strive to keep within her own nominal borders the breath of springtime, the glory of the rose, or the incense of the flowers, that is wafted from the gardens of God throughout the world. For that was not the way of Jesus.

His was a life for the world. The spirit of His resurrection imparts to every man who lives, irrespective of his beliefs, mystic and yet simple meanings which reach into the deeps of the soul. Indeed, Easters is great in the hold of its spirit on the world because it bears its wonderful message of life everywhere, quickened life and more abundant. God has no favorites. Just as the fields become glorious with verdure by the impartial administering of the Almighty, so all men become enlivened and increased in life by the Father's prodigal outpouring of His life.

At the outset, the one surpassing fact that exults the heart is the spirit of new life, which is in men all over the world. And as sorrows strengthen the bonds of sympathy and fellowship, so do joys likewise, and at Easter-time the common experience of revived life makes the meaning of brotherhood clearer and more genuine. There is an animation among men which it is supremely delightful to behold. Witness the processions of men and women and children, radiant in raiment and spirit, living Easter sermons, glowing, risen tributes to God, the Giver of Life!

These people are the same people who only yesterday were moving on with the everyday concerns of life. There is no essential change in them. They are not become, of a magic sudden, different creatures. They are today what they were yesterday. And the glory which radiates from them today was within them yesterday.

Easter does not make little of the common things of life, but once each year, with triumphant outburst, shows human nature on parade, as it were, in order that the glory of common things may be appreciated. A twelvemonth tends to undo the dignity of living and the glory of being human. The long, and it may be, wearisome and petty details of routine—these make the spirit flag and the vision dull.

Easter becomes a necessity for the proper exaltation of the excellencies which are in the common life, and which, if they be taken into account, must at the proper time shine out in the beauty of fullness, like the rose from the unattractive, but year-long faithful bush. Easter counts nothing of little worth in life, for each tiny, even infinitesimal atom that goes to make a man, makes for the risen life. It is of that eternity of life, not the least part of which is lost.

✦ ✦ ✦

Because Easter reaches so deeply into life, and brings forth such beauties everywhere, from the soil as from the soul, it is clear that the ordinary things of life, which men are prone to neglect and pass by, are in reality the chief materials from which Easter draws its glory and its power. Living day by day according to nature's God—this is the only means of attaining the risen life. The falling of the rain and the sunshine, the wafting of the breezes, these are the daily things which make the glory of the full-blown rose. The miracles of nature come slowly out of simple growth according to nature's law. And the realness of Easter for men is in the measure that men have put themselves in touch with the laws of good living. Daily doing the simple things of goodness, they are prepared, within and without, for the unfolding triumph of the divinely commonplace. This was the way of Him whose resurrection is the most remarkable in the history of the world. Other resurrections were recorded before His, but none appealed so strongly to men, in reasonableness and simplicity, as this in Jesus Christ.

✦ ✦ ✦

It would be interesting to know, now that this fact is much forgotten, even in the churches, who first had the temerity and the lack of wisdom to call the things of life secular, and, in contradistinction, the things of the temple sacred. Is anything, even the church, so holy as life, even incomplete and undeveloped life? Is it not with life, capable of endless power and effectiveness, that the Christ was constantly concerned? The tribute he paid to the little children in their untried innocency, and the sinners whom he counseled because they had marred their lives by being untrue to the law of life, are tokens of the primacy of life. Were not the glories of a risen life, or eternal life, promised to them who did the commandments; in other words, who followed the unquestioned laws which are everywhere known among men?

✦ ✦ ✦

Unreal distinction, which only confuse and conflict, are fast disappearing, and religion and life are no longer divorced, the one for the temple, the other for the world. The world is holy, and life is exceeding holy, and the rewards of an eternity are for those who go on by regular stages to new and larger life. For as men look out upon the fields of nature which are now about to break into a great symphony, they find in one sense no marvelous transformations. The rose bush of a year ago is still a rose, and the oak is still an oak. So man, thank God, is still a man. But the oak has spread its branches more widely and more gracefully, and there are more roses about to burst on a larger bush. So man, while yet the same man, is, if he has been true, a larger and a better man, and hence a risen man, true to God and his own life in the Easter triumph.

✦ ✦ ✦

Men would first know what Easter means for their own lives. That is not badly selfish. It is natural. The language of Easter has been so high-flown, so unlike their everyday life-experiences, that much of Easter has remained beyond their understanding. They are not versed in theology, but in life. They have lived reasonably well, but the teachings are not simple and clear to them. They have struggled and made progress on the whole. But there seems to be no valuation placed on common things. And then there are so many men whose battles with weakness and sin of hard names are so severe, that they all but banish the other—worldly Easter celebration as a myth from the Orient. Theirs is one language, and that of the preachers and the church is another. Easter is for those whose home is in heaven, they declare. The common life is very common, indeed. In high places where what is called religion is devoutly gone through with, there seems to be so much that is inconsistent with life, even the life that Jesus lived.

✦ ✦ ✦

Here, for example is one Easter problem, which besets the unpretentious but thoughtful man. Some people, it is clear, seem to have no difficulty in being good, while others struggle with some demon of the flesh or spirit, and life for them is a terrible and endless conflict. Is it just? Does Easter answer the wayfaring heart? Some children born in the midst of excellent morality and refinement have no trouble in attaining social and religious prominence in the world without any apparent effort, while others, whose warfare is known only to themselves and God, are continually toppling over the commandments and making themselves displeasing to the standards of society. Surely there is no resurrection for them, they cry. Ah, but there is.

✦ ✦ ✦

There is a law which is just and sure. It is this: A man is judged of God by the progress he makes from the point of his life's beginning. He may be set back at the start by a great handicap, on account of his tainted heritage, and who is not? But if he strives for the mastery, if he aspires to be, God rewards him by his sure law in a risen life. It is conceivable that one lad may stand at the head of his class and be less worthy than him at the foot, because a lad, who, by the sheer momentum of talent, which has been handed to him by his parents, keeps a front place, is not as worthy as another lad who labors with his full (if little) power and does no better than finish last. God's credits for those in the school of life are different from the markings in the hands of mortal teachers. Nothing is more reasonable in this Easter time than the assurance that the measure of a resurrected life is according as a man has been faithful in the things, great or small, which make up his life.

American Diplomacy in Venezuela.

A Diplomat at a Local Hotel Narrates a Funny South American Tale.

By "PETER PRY."

"The present pre-eminence of Castro's country, owing to the fact that New York, Paris and London capitalists are trying to kick the fiery little president of Venezuela out and run the government for themselves," said an American diplomat—name suppressed for obvious reasons—who was at the Fort Pitt hotel all last week, "makes very topical the story that I heard the last time I was in Caracas about an old-time American consul who successfully used diplomacy to hold on to his job."

"It seems that 'way back in the '80s a shrewd countryman—of Pennsylvania Dutch stock—was given a Venezuelan consulship, not because of any special qualifications, but merely to fulfill a political promise. The place was then regarded as a sinecure, hampered only by 'yellow jack,' and the government officials thought that the new consul would be able to drag through the daily routine of taking siestas and hoisting the American flag, without any difficulty.

"The new consul—we'll call him Sutter—became afflicted with the usual tropical thirst for firewater and in addition was totally unable to keep in touch with the constant revolutions and the new swarms of officials who tried to prey upon American concessions. As the post became more important, the state department become more dissatisfied and at last Consul Sutter received notice of removal, with a request to await the arrival of his successor and to show him the ropes.

"But the extinguished diplomat had meanwhile grown to love his office so he immediately sat himself down, and under the inspiring influence of a bottle of his beloved aguardiente, thought out a warm welcome for his successor.

"The immediate outcome of these cogitations was the sending of one of his peons to buy up about 20 weatherbeaten tombstones, unlettered, that stood in the rank undergrowth of the Caracas' cemeteries. This done, he lolled back in his hammock and bossed the men who were raising the turf of his garden into graveyard mounds in various stages of age and newness. In a short time the American consul's backyard was a splendid imitation of a South American graveyard. Thereupon he had a native boy to let loose therein about 20 varieties of harmless reptiles.

"These preparations being made, ex-Consul Sutter hustled down to the waterfront, just in time to greet his successor from the states, who had landed on a little jetty and was vainly endeavoring to get information from the natives there.

"'So sorry,' the ex-consul apologized, 'that I'm late. But I had to attend the funeral of one of my best friends. Poor fellow, he was always afraid of yellow fever, but the 'jack' landed him at last.'

"Of course, the newcomer looked startled and paled visibly, but Sutter, talking volubly, led him up the main street, totally deserted during the hour of siesta, and casually mentioned that half of the population had fled to the mountains to escape yellow fever. Arriving at the consulate, Sutter started in to prepare the meal, explaining that all his servants were dead or in quarantine.

"'Take a stroll out in the garden, old man, and look around,' was Sutter's invitation to the new dignitary.

"After a while the ex-consul went out to find the visitor and, in well-feigned surprise, saw him perched in the limbs of a small tree, regarding with widely-distended optics several big snakes that were wriggling their way leisurely through the garden.

"'Great heavens! The deadly fer-de-lance!' yelled the shrewd ex-diplomat and then ensued a battle royal with the very harmless reptiles.

"Sutton killed one and put the others to fright. The new consul slowly descended and made his way gingerly to the house, sunk in thought. To save him from ennui, the ex-consul went through the process of killing another snake that had wound itself around the leg of the dining-room table.

"'I wish to ask you a question, Mr. Sutter,' quavered the newcomer, 'Is that er-er—the city graveyard back there in your garden? I thought I noticed some American flags on the graves.'

"'Bless my soul,' said the ex-consul. 'Those are the graves of the consuls who preceded me. Let me see, there was Evans, poor fellow. Big, strong, and healthy, you know. Down here three weeks as consul and he went off like a flash. 'Yellow jack,' you know. Notice the grave with the pretty granite tombstone?—that's Stephens. Guess you heard of him? No. Well, Stephens was game. Lasted longer than any of the 29 consuls who came down here in the last six years. Stephens lasted five months. I think he would have lived longer, only a tarantula bit him in his bedroom one night. Then there was Williamson—he lasted—'

"The new consul rose hurriedly to his feet and glanced out the window to where the steamship could be seen getting up steam preparatory to making the return trip.

"'Say, Mr. Sutter,' he said simply, 'you'd better remain here in office temporary, at any rate—for I hereby throw up the job! No martyr business for mine. Goodby—I've got to hustle to catch that return boat.

"'Well, if you insist——' said Sutter sadly, but he spoke to empty air for the diplomat from the United States was puffing down the dusty street for the steamship jetty. Whereupon the shrewd Pennsylvania Dutchman winked the other eye and began punishing another bottle, secure for at least three months.

"Well, between red-tape and the clever scares he threw into every new consul," concluded the diplomat now in Pittsburgh, "diplomatic Sutter lasted in Venezuela many, many years, in spite of the whirligig of politics. Besides there was really no reason why such a clever schemer should not make a good diplomat anyway."

Quiet Observations on Timely Topics

Veteran Soldiers Still Have Important Work to Do.

By ERASMUS WILSON.

Although the war of the rebellion closed two-score years ago, there are still 800,000 survivors, most of whom are active, useful men.

That they still survive is proof that they were, and are now, temperate, wise and practical men. Those who became broken down from exposure and hardship in the service, or incapacitated by wounds, or were intemperate in their habits, have mostly passed away.

At present the death rate is something over 100 a day. During the next decade this rate will rapidly increase and then gradually decline, until the last one answers the roll call.

* * *

With the close of the war many of the soldiers thought their work was done, having completed the task assigned them to do. Good citizens who remained at home supported them in this conclusion, and promised to take up the work where they left off.

To do this was impossible, no matter how willing they may have been to carry out ther promises. Only the veteran knew what the war meant. He alone could comprehend the true meaning of the much-used words, patriotism and loyalty.

In his years of service he had learned that following the flag meant something more than marching behind it on the Fourth of July, and cheering it on other occasions when it passed. He learned to revere it, and to feel in his heart that it is the emblem of good government as well as of the nation.

* * *

To many the flag is nothing more than a striped piece of silk or bunting, with a cluster of stars in one corner. The sight of it does not appeal to them, nor thrill them, as it does the veteran. With him it is more, much more, than a passing sentiment.

True love for the flag signifies respect for and loyalty to all that it typifies, which is all that our government stands for politically, socially and morally.

As years pass the veterans have come to realize this more and more keenly, and are becoming more and more earnest in their efforts to establish the flag in the hearts of the young, as well as on the school houses where they are taught.

A flag on top of the school house is something worth while, but not nearly as much as to have it established in the school—in the hearts of teachers and pupils.

To this end the Grand Army of the Republic is inaugurating a campaign of education. In Massachusetts, and some other states, it is working splendidly, and before the close of the year it will be inaugurated in every state in the union, and thereafter the department of patriotic instruction will be accounted one of the most important in the order.

Comrade Charles O. Smith of this city is patriotic instructor for the department of Pennsylvania, and he has done a great deal of preliminary work. In this he has been heavily handicapped by a lack of available funds with which to provide the necessary literature. He has not failed to go down into his own pocket in order to keep the good work going on, and it is going on.

It is hoped that provision will be made for this work in the next school appropriation as was done in Massachusetts last year.

* * *

Comrade Smith has addressed a circular to comrades throughout the state relating to this special work, from which the following paragraphs are taken:

"Competency to assist in this work does not, of necessity, require that you shall possess extraordinary oratorical powers. Your experiences as soldiers and as comrades of the Grand Army of the Republic fully qualify you for this important work. In your person you represent the grandest and greatest of 'object lessons' in patriotic education, and what is needed on your part is a little study, much thought and great earnestness in order to accomplish the desired results. Truth, honesty, love of country, respect for its laws, and reverence for its flag—is patriotism and patriotism is the foundation stone of good citizenship, a citizenship that will never require the services of an 'investigating committee.'

"Let the people, especially the strangers that have come to abide within our gates, and the youth of our land, be taught to emulate the virtues of Washington, Lincoln, Grant and McKinley, and to apply them to the duties of life, and there will be no question as to the future of this republic.

"With rare exceptions, the teachers in our schools and school authorities love and honor the veterans of the civil war and are in hearty sympathy with the Grand Army of the Republic in all of its patriotic work, and if approached in the right spirit will encourage and gladly render all the assistance in their power.

"When it can be done, through the aid of patriotic citizens or in other ways—prizes should be offered to the pupils of the schools for the best essays on patriotic subjects, such as, 'What Is Patriotism;' 'Patriotism vs. Immigration;' 'What Are the Qualifications of Good Citizenship' and so on. In visiting the schools always wear your full Grand Army of the Republic uniform, this in itself is an object lesson that makes a lasting impression, particularly so on the younger children and those of foreign birth. Explain the meaning of your G. A. R. badge."

CASUAL GLIMPSES AROUND THE CITY

Notes About People and Events in Which Pittsburghers Are Interested.

John P. Clum, a postal inspector who is known to fame as the first editor of the Tombstone (Arizona) Epitaph, passed through Pittsburgh last night en route to Fairbanks, Alaska, where he will take up the rehabilitating of the postal system there with unlimited powers. The task is a familiar one, for when the Klondike gold fever broke out Clum was sent to Alaska as a special postmaster general and immediately evolved a splendid system out of the raw material at hand.

"The town of Fairbanks, where I will resume my postal functions," said Mr. Clum, "is in latitude 64 degrees 30 minutes north, and anyone who thinks it's a howling wilderness up there is mistaken. The town is a snappy little burg of 8,000 enterprising inhabitants, one national and two private banks, electric light, steam heating and telephone service. In 1899 this spot was such a trackless wilderness that a United States army expedition was lost and starved to death on the same territory."

Mr. Clum is a splendid type of the American imperialist and entered the government service in '71 when he was 18 years old. In 1874 he became custodian of the Apache Indians, consolidated four tribes, totalling 5,000 redskins, into one reservation, killed and captured many rebel Indians after the capture of Geronimo, and May, 1886, found him starting a newspaper in the notorious Arizona town of Tombstone, which he appropriately named the Tombstone Epitaph. Later postmaster and mayor, the wanderlust seized him and he went to California. In 1891, in postal work again, he put out of business a great Mexican lottery swindle and filed 557 indictments against the president. With that record, Clum, still boyish at 50, should keep Alaska on the jump.

Easter Excursionists Disappointed.

It is estimated that fully 8,000 excursionists from neighboring points came in to Pittsburgh on special excursion trains yesterday to visit the Phipps conservatory, the parks and to see the gay Easter parade. Of this number 2,000 excursionists came from the Allegheny valley. The continual showers caused them to meet with disappointment, though most of them braved the weather and their unfamiliarity with Pittsburgh's streets and determinedly took in all the sights. Many of the women excursionists, togged in all their springtime finery, went hopefully to the doors of Union station on their arrival, took one look at a vista of rain and mud, and sadly went back to a seat in the waiting room. Again and again they reconnoitered and finally over a hundred of the visitors spent a weary day in walking around the waiting room or taking hurried little trips about streets in the vicinity of the station. Between the fear of getting lost and that of missing the train homeward bound, many of the visitors put in an exciting day.

Among the Travelers.

The Rt. Rev. F. L. Tobin, vicar-general of the Catholic diocese of Pittsburgh, accompanied by the Rev. James Francis Doyle, left last night for Atlantic City. Vicar-General Tobin stated that a rest of a few days was necessary after arduous labor in raising funds for the new cathedral.

Emil Paur, leader of the Pittsburgh orchestra, left last night for Indianapolis to fill four concert dates with the Thomas orchestra. "During the last three days," said Mr. Paur, "I attended several meetings of the board of directors of the Pittsburgh orchestra and was greatly gratified by the encouraging aspect the musical situation has assumed. I sail April 24 for Germany, and will rest and do a little concert work in Berlin until I return here in October."

Interested in New Oil Field.

State Senator Joseph A. McDermott of Morgantown, W. Va., last night held a conference at Newell's hotel with J. W. Nelson and with representatives of the six large Pittsburgh oil companies and operators who have purchased thousand-acre tracts in the new oil and natural gas field that has been opened up at Canneliton, Ind., during the past six months. "The new field is about 150 miles south of Chicago," said State Senator J. H. McDermott last night, "and covers at present a radius of 10 square miles, most of which is controlled either by myself or by prospetous Pittsburgh oil concerns who have leased floating stock long years ago."

HARTJE DIVORCE HAS SENSATIONS

Prominent Persons Are to Be Arrested as Accomplices of Negro Coachman Hooe.

HABEAS CORPUS PROCEEDINGS

The Hartje divorce case will occupy the attention of the public today, for the question whether Clifford Hooe, the negro in the suit, shall be liberated on habeas corpus proceedings will come up before Judges Young and Frazer.

There will be more sensations either this or next week, according to John S. Robb, Jr., assistant district attorney, and also one of the counsel for Mrs. Hartje. Mr. Robb says that three men, perhaps five, are to be arrested for conspiracy and subornation of perjury in connection with Augustus Hartje's suit for divorce against his wife. It was reported the arrests would be made today, but Mr. Robb said yesterday that statement was not true. Exactly when the arrests will be made and what the standing in the community of the proposed defendants is, Mr. Robb would not say.

It is known that the men whom Mr. Robb threatens to prosecute are prominent in business and social circles. This much was intimated by Thomas Madine, former coachman for the Hartjes, and also named as a corespondent by Mr. Hartje. In an interview Madine said $5,000 was offered to him on condition that he would swear to knowledge of the truth of the accusations made against Mrs. Hartje in the divorce suit. The man whom Madine, without naming him, accuses of offering him the bribe, is one of those whom Mr. Robb has in mind when speaking of the arrests that are to be made. The others will be accused of having induced Hooe to commit perjury, when he swore that he had been intimate with Mrs. Hartje. The negro has since sworn that he lied when he made affidavit as to Mrs. Hartje's guilt.

The application for the writ of habeas corpus for Hooe was made on Saturday by John Marron, J. Scott Ferguson, W. B. Rodgers and W. H. Stanton, attorneys for Mr. Hartje. Judges Frazer and Young will decide today whether they will hear the application, which is for a writ returnable before the court of quarter sessions.

Hooe's trial for perjury is to begin on Thursday. Hartje's attorneys, who are also his counsel, will on that day ask that the trial be postponed, as they do not want him tried until the divorce case has been decided. Hooe's lawyers say that he cannot be indicted legally on his alleged perjured testimony, as the testimony has not been filed in court, whereas Mr. Robb contends that when Hooe gave his testimony before the divorce commissioner he committed perjury, the commissioner being an officer of the court, whose duty is to report back to the court.

NOTABLE THEOLOGIANS TO DISCUSS THE BIBLE

Important Conference Called to Meet Here Under Auspices of Local League.

An important Bible conference has been called to meet here on April 30 and May 1 under the auspices of the Pittsburgh Bible League, an interdenominational body, and prominent theologians from all sections of the country are expected to attend and deliver addresses.

The conference will open Monday evening, April 30, with William P. Hall, a wealthy New York layman prominently identified with evangelistic work, presiding. The Rev. Dr. Francis L. Patton of Princeton Theological seminary will deliver an address on "The Seat of Authority in Religion."

Tuesday morning the Rev. Dr. W. H. McMillan of Allegheny will preside, and addresses will be delivered by the Rev. Dr. Robert D. Wilson of Princeton on "Was the Hebrew Religion of Babylonian Origin?" and the Rev. Oliver C. Morse, D. D., executive secretary of the American Bible league, on "Reasonableness of Regarding the Story of Jonah as History."

Tuesday afternoon Judge Joseph Buffington will preside, and addresses will be delivered by Prof. G. Frederick Wright of Oberlin college on "Scientific Confirmations of Early Bible History;" Prof. John MacNaugher of Allegheny Theological seminary on "Modern Criticism of the New Testament," and the Rev. Dr. Daniel S. Gregory, editorial secretary of the American Bible league, on "Aim and Methods of the American Bible League." The Rev. Dr. William L. McEwan of this city will preside over the evening session and will deliver an address on "The Pittsburgh Branch of the American Bible League." Prof. L. T. Townsend of Brookline, Mass., will speak on "Collapse of Evolution."

IMMIGRANTS ARRIVE TOO RAPIDLY TO LAND

So Many Foreigners Crowd Incoming Ships That Ellis Island Facilities Are Paralyzed.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, April 15.—Eight steamships arrived in New York today with 8,363 immigrants. If all the ships expected get here this week Ellis island will be unable to cope with the situation, and something like 15,000 of the incomers will have to wait until next week to land upon United States soil. No fewer than 47,000 will be the week's total unless vessels now on their way are delayed.

Robert Watchorn, commissioner of immigration, today said that not more than 5,000 immigrants a day could be handled properly on Ellis island, so that during the six days beginning tomorrow only 30,000 can be taken care of. Ellis island was closed today before the immigrants could be taken off the ships arriving.

Steamship companies are not greatly pleased at the prospect of a congestion of immigrant arrivals, as many ships will probably have to keep their steerage passengers on board two nights after their arrival in port.

AN INTERESTING LECTURE.

Hon. C. A. Buskirk to Deliver Discourse Upon Christian Science Next Sunday Afternoon.

The Hon. Clarence A. Buskirk, formerly attorney general of Indiana, will deliver a lecture upon Christian Science next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Nixon theater. The discourse is given under the auspices of First Church of Christ Scientist, Clyde street, Pittsburgh. Mr. Buskirk is an eloquent and forceful speaker and his lecture, which lacks the prosiness characteristic of many religious discourses, is a lucid exposition of the tenets of Christian Science.

The lecturer is a member of the board of lectureship of the denomination and although this is his first appearance in this city, his reputation as a speaker is well known, he having delivered addresses upon Christian Science before large audiences in the leading cities of the United States.

MISSION LIFE IN INDIA.

Woman Worker in the Far East Describes The Conditions Existing There.

"Missionary News From India" was the theme of an address made last night by Miss Kate E. Hill of India in the Sixth United Presbyterian church. In speaking of the missionary work being done in India, she told her auditors that they could not do without the medical missionaries. Thousands of people in India, even in good times, do not get enough to eat, and disease is always prevalent.

Miss Hill told of her own work in the Punjab. She depicted the famine, with its horrors and miseries. She also described the home life of the Hindu caste women.

PTTSBURGHER GETS BUSY, EVEN THOUGH HE'S IN JAIL

Gives a Cincinnati Newspaper a Sensational Story, and Has the Warden Guessing—Chief of Police Suffers from Chagrin.

William E. Cope is one of those men who cannot be crushed by adverse circumstances. In his case "stone walls do not a prison make," but rather a quiet resort in which to project and consummate business enterprises. Cope, in the custody of Detective Rice, was brought back from Cincinnati early yesterday morning. He is wanted here on a charge of embezzling partnership funds belonging to the Vacation Publicity Company. The charge is made by his partners, Andrew S. McSwigan and Albert H. Belteh. Cope denies the charge. He is also accused of having a check rashed at the Hotel Antler without sufficient funds to meet it.

Rice found Cope in jail in Cincinnati, being held for a board bill of $186 contracted at the Gibson house. This was finally settled by Cope's father. When Cope arrived in Cincinnati he was well dressed, apparently had money and created quite an impression upon the guileless Porkopolitans. He dropped in upon the chief of police, Paul M. Milligan, and introduced himself as a representative of a Pittsburgh newspaper on a secret mission. He told Milligan that he deserved publicity, and he (Cope) desired to print a biography of the chief, illustrated with his portrait, in the Pittsburgh newspaper. Milligan agreed and gave Cope his latest and best photograph. When Milligan was called upon to arrest Cope the chief felt chagrined and insisted upon the return of his photograph.

But it was while Cope was in the Cincinnati jail that he disclosed his superiority to his environments. After he had been incarcerated a few days he called the jail warden to his cell and in agitated whispers disclosed a plot for a general jail delivery. He gave the names of several prisoners awaiting trial for serious crimes as being the ringleaders. The warden immediately put a double guard in the jail and confined the alleged leaders in the dark dungeon. Then Cope got busy. He sent for a representative of Cincinnati's yellowest journal, told the reporter the story and received $6 for the information. The money came in right handy. A couple of days later the story of the attempted jail delivery was printed, with all the lurid details the writer could think up. The jail warden read the story once; he read it again, more carefully; then he opened the door of the dark dungeon and told the alleged desperadoes to bask in the sunshine of the corridors.

Detective Rice says that while returning with his prisoner Cope said he had gone to Cincinnati to make a delicate investigation for a Philadelphia politician, but refused to give the name of his employer.

DRAWS LESSONS FROM THE CAREER OF MICAH

The Rev. J. T. McCrory Preaches on the Use of Stolen Money for Religious Purposes

The Rev. J. T. McCrory, pastor of the Third United Presbyterian church, preached last evening on "Stolen Money Put to Religious Uses." His text was from Judges xvii:6, "In those days there was no king in Israel: every man did that which was right in his own eyes." Mr. McCrory said in part:

The closing chapters of the book of Judges detail a condition of social order, or rather social disorder, among the Hebrews that was little short of absolute anarchy. Several incidents of religious and social conduct are given in illustration of prevailing conditions. Take the one at the beginning of this chapter. This man Micah was a very religious man. He set up for himself a Kill-Joy establishment out of treasure he had a short time before stolen from his own mother. True enough he had confessed his rascality and by the act of his devoted mother had got a legal title to the stolen money. But most of the men of our day who give largely of stolen funds to religion have a legal title to the tainted lucre. But we want to look at this incident more closely and get the lessons from it.

It is altogether likely this fellow went all the more heartily into setting up his religious establishment to ease his conscience. For a good many years there have been Michas in this country stealing fortunes, the hard earned savings of years and defying the law. They have been doing what was right in their own eyes. And as Hamilton of the insurance business explained, there was a "higher law" for them. They seem very much surprised when they are called to testify in courts of justice. As if to say "who should presume to ask them to submit their conduct to ordinary, every day, rules of human conduct?" It would be preposterous. But they will turn over some thousands for purposes of religion if no questions are asked. If the church had the old Peter courage and spirit and should dare say "Thy money perish with thee" there would be some hope of a moral earthquake, for if men cannot find some way of easing their guilty consciences it may be hoped the fire will burn until there will be no longer any enduring of the awful agony and they will cry to a just and offended God for mercy.

Micah became a law unto himself and presumed to set God aside even in His own worship. Much of the stolen money offered for religious purposes is made by running the wheels of business over the Decalogue. Nearly all the great corporations laugh at God's Fourth Commandment, and the Sixth, Eighth, Ninth and Tenth are trampled under foot with impunity. What great corporation takes a decent account of human life in pushing business? Life is cheap. It may seem altogether safe to disregard God and deal with a high hand today, but wait until tomorrow and the Danites may come along. Better get right with God, and with the law of social order.

SMALL POLICYHOLDERS ARE THOSE WHO QUIT

President Morton of Equitable Life Makes Statement of Result of the Insurance Scandals.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, April 15.—A statement given out tonight, by the Equitable Life Assurance society, says:

"Investigation shows that the fears engendered by the developments of the year resulted in the lasping of 27,385 policies for $1,000 or under, while only one policy for $25,000 was allowed to lapse. Of the entire volume of lapsed policies in the Equitable, 84 per cent were for $3,000 or less."

In commenting on the results of his efforts to restore the standing of lapsed policy holders, President Morton today said:

"My belief that the small policy holder was the chief sufferer from the agitation and excitement regarding life insurance is now confirmed. The holders of policies of $5,000 and upwards are generally men of business experience. Through fear, based on misapprehension of the real facts, and often on misrepresentation, thousands of small policyholders allowed their policies to lapse."

Twelve Tons of Money on This Ship.

QUEENSTOWN, April 15.—The steamship Campania, which sailed from here today for New York, has on board what is said to be the largest consignment of specie ever sent across the Atlantic on one vessel. The total value of the specie is about $6,250,000 and its weight is close to twelve tons.

EASTER BRINGS CHEER TO SORROWING FRIENDS

The Rev. Dr. John H. Prugh Says That Church Arose from the Resurrection.

Grace Reformed church, Dithridge and Bayard streets, was beautiful yesterday with palms and Easter lilies. A splendid musical program was rendered in the morning, and the Easter cantata, "The New Life," by Rodgers, given in the evening. The theme of the Rev. Dr. John H. Prugh's morning sermon was: "The Great Easter Fact," his text being I Corinthians, xv:20, "Now is Christ risen from the dead." He said in part:

The grandest day-dawn of all was that of the first Easter. The Easter song gives a peculiar sweetness to the music of Christianity. The Christmas message of God's love to men and Good Friday's message of the sacrifice of the Son of God for the salvation of men are glorious facts which Easter affirms. Our belief is in the Christ who lived a beautiful life, who died a wonderful death, and who rose again, possessing all power and promising us His constant presence. That is our faith; we who want to be better and who desire to grow strong.

There is no more positively proven fact in all history than the resurrection of Jesus Christ. Sunday with its Christian worship; the church with its splendid mission of helpfulness to all mankind, and the Christian civilization, all these attest Christ's resurrection. The resurrection created the church, the risen Christ made Christianity. The fact that Jesus had risen started the Christian religion. It was that that put Christianity on its feet and gave it marvelous growth, not faith in the Christ who had lived and died, but faith in the Christ who had died and lived.

The resurrection of Christ discloses a real connection between this world and the unseen world. But in His resurrection Christ did not cease to be human. He rose with a human body and a human soul. Behold Him with His friends on that first Easter. He has the same human sympathies and affections and ties as before. His human life goes on beyond the grave. Cheer thee, sorrowing friend. It is so with your departed loved ones; it will be so with you. If Jesus Christ rose from the dead on Easter, then the world into which He has gone is a real world, in which we, by and by, will live more fully than we live here. That is our Easter hope.

SUNDAY GAZETTE'S EASTER NUMBER SHOULD BE LAID AWAY FOR REFERENCE

Complete in every detail was the Sunday Gazette Easter number. Complete in the manner in which it covered the news pertaining to the day. Complete in the special articles which dealt so succintly, intelligently and entertainingly with the Savior's birth. Complete with illustrations showing places of historic interest, scenes of Jerusalem, of places hallowed by the Presence in the days just preceding the crucifixion. The half-tone section of The Gazette Easter number was one that should be laid away for future reference. It was full of pictures and data of historical value which will likely be of benefit in the future. Aside from the Easter illustrations the half-tone section was replete with scenes and faces of especial interest. Scenes familiar to Pittsburghers, with which they are brought in touch from day to day, faces which have been brought under their attention so often that they are known in almost every household. The Easter number of The Sunday Gazette was certainly all that could have been desired, a bright page in the great journalistic volume which The Gazette is compiling for its readers from week to week.

The Home Journal section of The Sunday Gazette contained several features seldom found in the magazine section of a newspaper. George Ade continued his tale of "In Pastures New," taking this week Cairo as the annual stamping ground for Americans. This week's contribution is in that inimitable vein which has brought Mr. Ade so closely to the hearts of the American people. Fortunate indeed are those readers of a Sunday paper who receive the benefit of his best efforts from week to week. Mark Twain, too, tells of his familiarity with the ocean, in the Home Journal section of yesterday. He has crossed over so often that he knows the sharks by their first names now, and when he meets a bounding billow face to face it nods to him a friendly greeting and he remembers that he met that same wave at precisely the same spot on a previous voyage. In addition to these really excellent contributions by foremost writers the Home Journal section contains its usual array of favorites, who write in pleasing vein for the entertainment of the women readers of The Gazette.

In the comic section the usual hubbub was noticeable. The original manner in which Buster Brown broke up his cousin's wedding would have been pathetic had it not been so ludicrous. Little Jimmy went for an expressman but met an old friend. What happened to Jimmy? Mr. Coon had a most disastrous day with an Easter bonnet. The rest of the bunch was easy as usual.

BERRY WILL GET $13,000,000

State Treasurer Mathues Ready to Close All Accounts Except That at Lancaster.

ALL SCHOOL MONEY ON TIME

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau, HARRISBURG, PA., April 15.

State Treasurer Mathues is closing his accounts with the banks, trust companies and other institutions doing business with the department so that he may have everything cleaned up when he turns over the office to William H. Berry on May 7. Mathues will not, however, be able to close up the account with the City Trust Company of Lancaster, which failed more than one year ago with a general fund deposit of $65,000. There is still owing the state of this deposit $39,215.39, the balance having been collected by Mathues in the past 90 days. The bondsmen have promised to cancel all the indebtedness as soon as possible and it is expected the entire amount will be paid in the next 60 days. It is amply protected.

The receipts of the treasury have been unusually heavy the last two years and Mathues will go out of office with a balance of about $10,000,000 in the general fund and more than $3,000,000 in the sinking fund. These heavy receipts result from increased taxes from corporations. The state funds are now carried on deposit in more than 150 banks and trust companies throughout Pennsylvania.

The bulk of the money in the general and sinking funds is carried on deposit in the banks of Pitsburgh and other cities in the western part of the state. Berry is expected to shift the deposits so as to give the banks in eastern Pennsylvania the bulk of the public funds.

With a balance of $10,000,000 in the general fund and all the outstanding debts of the state cancelled, Berry will be able to pay all of the school districts their share of the $5,500,000 appropriation when it falls due on the first Monday of June.

By the retention of Maj. Henry C. Greenawalt of Fayetteville, who has had many years' experience in the treasury, Berry expects to have no trouble "breaking in" those whom he has selected to take the places of the attaches under Mathues.

THOUSANDS ARE HOMELESS IN FORMOSAN EARTHQUAKE

Death List is Expected to Equal That Following the Shock Last March.

[Special Cable to The Gazette.]

TOKYO, April 15.—One hundred and nine persons are known to have been killed and 29 injured in the earthquake in the southern part of the island of Formosa last Saturday, but further details, it is expected, will swell the death roll, as the shock was more severe than that of March 17.

The town of Kagi again was the principal sufferer, the houses which escaped destruction in the former disturbance being now in ruins. Doko and several other towns and villages also were affected by landslides, which have completely changed the topography of the country.

The officials are working feverishly to relieve the thousands of persons left homeless by the earthquake.

MUTINY AND MURDER ON PORTUGUESE BATTLESHIP

Press Censor Suppresses Details of Tragic Occurrences in Lisbon Harbor.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

MADRID, April 15.—The Portuguese newspapers today print a story to the effect that while the Portuguese battleship Vasco da Gama was opposite Lisbon on the evening of April 13 there was unusual movements, cries and signals for help on board. The tug Aresan approached the vessel, but was fired on and retired.

The papers assert that a lieutenant was killed by the crew of the vessel in revenge for the death of a sailor who was killed by the lieutenant as he was trying to fire a cannon.

The papers also print a statement that the examination of the 483 mutineers of the cruiser Doncaster, who mutinied on April 12, is being held, and that seven of them have already been sentenced to close confinement. The censorship is strict.

You can always depend upon it. Pilene positively cures Piles. All druggists sell it.

THAT ONE WEAK SPOT.

Kidney sickness robs the back of all its power and strength. It's hard to lift, to stoop or straighten, and even to get up from a chair.

This indescribable weakness of the back, the endless dull aching that goes with it, are never-failing symptoms of kidney complaint. A bad back is Nature's signal of distress, a call for help from the kidneys. The aching tells of dangerous congestion that robs the kidneys of their blood-filtering power, or painful, wasting inflammation. There is immediate need for Doan's Kidney Pills, to relieve the pain and heal the diseased kidneys, to ward off more fatal and painful disorders.

If you are not sure your kidneys are affected, but do suspect it, try the urine. Set a bottleful aside for 24 hours, and if it then shows a cloudy settling at the bottom, or a sandy sediment, you will know you need Doan's Kidney Pills at once. Neglect of such little troubles as these is what brings on thousands of cases of dropsy, diabetes and fatal Bright's disease.

"Every Picture Tells a Story."

Healthy kidneys keep you well by keeping the blood pure. Sick kidneys keep you sick by failing to purify the blood. This is the cause of many forms of rheumatism, neuralgia and gout; of such nervous troubles as headache, irritability, dizzy spells, depression; of palpitation of the heart, stomach troubles, liver complaint; of la grippe, colds, chills; of half the aches and ills of humanity.

Learn to keep the kidneys well. Doan's Kidney Pills will do it for you. Grateful residents of this city testify. Their statements prove it to you.

PITTSBURGH PROOF.

W. K. Craig, watchmaker, at 2825 Penn Ave., Pittsburgh, Pa., says: "The endorsement I gave you some years in which I recommended Doan's Kidney Pills was true in every particular, and if it is the means of doing any kidney sufferer benefit you may continue to publish it. I have not been troubled with my kidneys since I first used your remedy and I think that is saying a great deal."

STRIKE SITUATION NEARING CRISIS

Non-Union Men from Pittsburgh May Make Trouble in Panhandle District.

LEWIS IS STILL OPTIMISTIC

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WHEELING, W. VA., April 15.—The mining situation in the Fifth Ohio subdistrict, which includes the West Virginia Panhandle, has assumed a threatening aspect, and trouble is feared almost immediately, with Moundsville, W. Va., 20 miles below Wheeling on the Ohio river, the danger point.

There the Glen Easton Coal Company has refused to recognize the newly organized miners' local union, and it is asserted the company is hourly expecting a train load of non-unionists from Pittsburgh. Shanties have been erected for the accommodation of the non-unionists, and supplies are being received at the mines for their subsistence. The striking miners say they will resist this move by persuasive methods only, but the situation is decidedly threatening.

At Charleston, W. Va., the seventeenth sub-district mine conference has resulted in an offer on the part of the operators to grant the miners an increase of 3 per cent in lieu of the 5.55 increase demanded. The offer has been taken under consideration, but will not be accepted.

At Wheeling Creek, Ohio, west of Wheeling, a mass meeting of the miners of the Eastern Ohio district was held this afternoon, which was addressed by National Vice President Thomas L. Lewis, who expressed the opinion that following the executive board meeting this week at Indianapolis the situation throughout the bituminous fields would show great improvement.

TO USE STEEL COACHES.

Pennsylvania and Other Railroads Planning Adoption of Latest Idea in Car Building.

NEW YORK, April 15.—(Special.)—Steel passenger coaches may soon be in service on the main lines of some of the principal railroads. The Pennsylvania railroad is now getting designs from the big car builders and the Baltimore & Ohio, also the Southern people are seriously considering the adoption of steel cars.

This has been brought about largely in view of the adverse criticism made by the legislature on the railroads because of the railroad accidents which have occurred recently. The use of steel cars would considerably minimize the loss of life in railroad catastrophes and the danger of a train taking fire would also be greatly lessened.

No steel cars are at present utilized for main line passenger traffic on any of the roads. The Erie, however, has two or three steel combination cars in operation on its suburban lines and so has the New York, New Haven & Hartford. One hundred and twenty-five steel cars are on order by the New York Central for use on the local lines about to be electrified.

LOOK FOR STAMPEDE.

Berwind-White Coal Company Expects Miners by Wholesale to Start Work Today.

JOHNSTOWN, PA., April 15.—(Special.)—It is not believed possible for the union organizers to hold the 5,000 Berwind-White company miners in Windber in line, in view of the order of President Patrick Gilday that all miners return to work where the operators pay the 1903 scale As President Gilday does not say anything about union miners, the inference is that union men employed in non-union mines are included in the order.

In any event the Berwind-White company officials look for a stampede for the mines Tuesday morning. The organizers declare they will keep every man possible away from work until the company recognizes the union.

The Death Roll.

MANUEL GARCIA ALONSO
PURITANOS FINOS

Actual size. Price, 15 cents.

Four Million Sold Annually in United States

This cigar is known to almost everybody who smokes imported cigars. It is refined in shape and of superior workmanship; makes a fine smoke that is thoroughly enjoyable because it has distinct character in flavor and is also mild.

Every Cigar Store Sells This Cigar

SPECIAL NOTICE—The long-continued heavy rains during last December and January destroyed more than half of this year's tobacco crop in Cuba. This will not, however, affect the high quality of Garcia Puritanos Finos, as the Havana Tobacco Company holds a sufficient supply of fine, ripe, perfectly matured tobaccos to continue its output of Garcia Puritanos Finos for two years.

THE HAVANA TOBACCO COMPANY EXPORTS MORE HAVANA CIGARS FROM CUBA THAN ALL OTHER MANUFACTURERS COMBINED

Coal and Timber Lands.

COAL LANDS AND PLANT.

Good coal properties are scarce, but here are two propositions that are attractive both as investments and revenue producers. A thoroughly equipped mine on the Panhandle railroad within the Pittsburgh freight rate district, with an output of 500 tons per diem. This plant is past the tentative period and is making money. Also acreage on the Wheeling & Lake Erie R. R. in the Pittsburgh district that is of known value. For price, location and terms of these two properties, see

POLITICAL NOTICES.

REPUBLICAN CITY EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.
416 Grant Street.

NOTICE is hereby given to the members of the Republican City Executive Committee that at a meeting to be held on Thursday evening, April 19, 1906, in the Common Council Chamber, City Hall, at 8 o'clock, the following amendments to the rules, which were presented by Mr. J. S. Gillespie at a meeting held on Monday evening, April 9, 1906, will be brought before the meeting for action:

"In place of Section 3 and Section 4 of Rule III, Primary Elections, insert the following:

"The qualifications of electors entitled to vote at a primary shall be the same as the qualifications of the electors entitled to vote at elections within the election district where the primary is held. Each elector shall prove his qualifications and his identity in the same manner in which electors in the election in which he offers to vote are, or hereafter may be, required by law to prove their qualifications or identity, on election day.

"Each elector shall have the right to receive a ballot; Provided, That if he is challenged, he shall be required to make oath or affirmation that, at the next preceding general election at which he voted, he voted for a majority of the candidates of the Republican party.

"Upon executing such affidavit the voter shall be entitled to receive the ballot for which he has called, and to cast his vote according to law."

RULE VII.

Strike out all of Rule VII, as follows:

"None of the foregoing rules shall be changed or amended by the present committee, excepting in the following manner:

"All amendments shall be presented at a meeting of the City Executive Committee, and such amendment or amendments shall not be voted upon until the next succeeding meeting, which shall be held not less than 10 days thereafter.

"Notice by postal card or letter shall be mailed to each member, with notice of the proposed amendment or amendments, and time of meeting and by publication in at least two (2) Republican newspapers for a period of at least two (2) days.

"The said amendment or amendments shall not be adopted, unless it receives the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the members present."

All are requested to be present.
By order of
M. G. LESLIE,
Chairman.
Attest:
ROBERT OSTERMAIER,
Secretary.

THE MARATHON MYSTERY

By BURTON E. STEVENSON,

Author of "The Holladay Case," "Cadets of Gascony," Etc.

Copyright, 1904, by Henry Holt & Co.

"Oh, you mustn't mind him," said Godfrey soothingly. "It's his business to be suspicious. He doesn't really suspect you."

"Well, they ain't no cause t' suspect me—I ain't done nothin'," returned the janitor; then he looked meditatively at his keys, which he still held in his hand. "Funny," he murmured; "funny. I don't know when they went out."

Godfrey said nothing, but contemplated him through half-closed eyes.

At that instant the street door opened and a man and woman entered.

"There they come, now!" cried Higgins, springing to his feet. "Good-evenin', Mr. Tremaine."

"Good-evening," returned the stranger, in a voice singularly rich and pleasant.

"I was jest a-sayin' t' my friend here," added the janitor, "that I hadn't seen y' go out."

Godfrey, for an instant, found himself gazing into a pair of the keenest eyes he had ever encountered.

"You wished to see me?" asked Tremaine.

"Oh, no, no," interrupted Higgins; "but th' p'lice was going through th' buildin'."

"The police?"

"Oh, I forgot—you don't know—that man Thompson's been murdered—he had th' soot right acrost th' hall from you."

"Murdered!" echoed Tremaine. "Murdered! Why, that's terrible! Who did it? How did is happen?"

Higgins retold the story with some unction, evidently enjoying his listener's horror. But Godfrey did not even glance at him. He was gazing—perhaps a shade too intently for politeness—at Mrs. Tremaine. And, indeed, she was a woman to hold any man's eyes—

Tremaine drew a deep breath when the story was finished.

"The house has been searched?" he asked. "The scoundrel couldn't be hidden—"

"Oh, no," Higgins assured him; "th' p'lice went all through it—even through your rooms."

"I'm glad of that—then we can sleep in peace."

Godfrey rather wondered that Mrs. Tremaine took no part in the discussion. She stood listening apathetically, not even noticing his stare.

"When they told me they'd gone through your rooms," added Higgins, "I was kind of surprised. I thought you was at home t'night."

"And that we stayed in our rooms during all that row?" queried Tremaine, smiling. "I suppose there was a row?"

His eyes sought Godfrey's again; then he turned back to Higgins, evidently disturbed.

"You mean we may have to prove an alibi?" he went on quickly. "Oh, we can do that. We left the house just after 7 o'clock—that was the first that I knew fourteen was occupied—I could see a light through the transom. I didn't see you anywhere about."

"Oh, now I understand," cried Higgins; "that was while we was puttin' Thompson t' bed. You didn't know him, I guess, sir?"

"No—as I said, I thought fourteen was empty."

"He's only been here three days," explained the janitor, "an' he was out most o' th' time, tankin' up."

"Oh, he was that sort, was he?" and Tremaine tossed away the end of his cigarette. "He got his deserts, then, no doubt. Come, Cecily," he added, turning to his wife.

"Elevator, sir?" asked Higgins.

"No; we've been sitting all evening at the vaudeville," and they went on up the stair, leaving Godfrey staring after them.

CHAPTER V.

Simmonds Snares a Bird.

"Well," said Godfrey, sinking back in his chair, "who are they, anyway?"

"Mr. and Mrs. Tremaine—that's all I know. But they're mighty nice people—he is, anyway—I don't see much o' her—'cept when she rings fer me t' tell me they ain't enough heat."

"How long have they been here?"

"About three weeks—an' he's a gentleman. That there Thompson, now—I was leery about lettin' him have th' rooms in th' first place—I didn't like his looks. But he offered t' pay in advance. I was goin' t' give him notice in th' mornin'. Th' agent won't stand for no sech goin's-on."

"Was he in the habit of getting drunk?"

"Oh, he's been comfortably tanked ever since he's been here—I could smell it on him—but never so bad as t'night. We can't have that here—our other people wouldn't stand it."

"Are all the apartments occupied?"

"No—y' see, they've been remodellin' th' house, tearin' it all apart, turnin' it inside out. It used t' be a hotel an' a damn poor one. It wasn't makin' any money, so th' guy that owns it thought he'd turn it int' an apartment house. Th' men that was a-workin' on it got three soots done, an' then around come a walkin' delegate with a red nose an' a big black moustache, an' ordered 'em out on a strike. Them three that's done are all full, though. Thompson had one: Tremaine an' his wife's got another, an' two young sports what 're lettin' on t' study art 's got th' third—away up at th' top with a skylight."

Godfrey smoked on placidly. He suspected that Higgins had something more to tell, and he saw that the only way to get it was to wait with what patience he could. He was in no hurry; besides, he wanted time to think. He had not yet recovered from that shock of realizing how he had gone wandering after a will-o'-the-wisp of his own creation. He had fancied himself astute . . .

The door opened; he heard Higgins utter a sharp cry of amazement. He looked up to see Simmonds—and with him another man, short, heavy-set, with a dark moustache. He caught the gleam of steel at his wrists.

Higgins was on his feet, staring.

"So you recognize him, do you?" asked Simmonds, his face shining with triumph. "I thought I couldn't be wrong. I got him quicker 'n I expected, Godfrey; I didn't even have to hunt for him. Of course, you know him?"

"How do you do, Mr. Godfrey?" said the prisoner politely. "Oh, yes, Mr. Godfrey knows me—he knows me too well to think I'd be mixed up in anything like this!"

"How are you, Jimmy?" returned Godfrey. "No, I didn't suppose—"

"Of course not!" said Jimmy, with scorn. "I wouldn't put a man out—that ain't my line." And, indeed, it wasn't, for Jimmy the Dude had gained his reputation as an expert manipulator of combination locks.

The detective had listened with a satisfied smile.

"Higgins," he said, "this is the fellow who brought Thompson home, ain't it?"

"Yes, sir," responded the janitor inarticulately.

"This," observed Jimmy, with fine indignation, "is what a man gets for doing a good action. I found that cove over at Magraw's just spoilin' for trouble, and I took him in tow and brought him home. Now you say I put him out! I'd better have kept my hands off!"

"We all know you've got a kind heart, Jimmy," retorted Simmonds. "Did he have anything in his pockets besides that key?"

"What key?"

"The key to his room; of course you took that."

"Of course I did!" said Jimmy, with deep irony. "Why, of course I did! You'll find it on me."

"Oh, no we won't," returned Simmonds, still smiling. "I've a much better opinion of you than that, Jimmy."

"Why, look here," cried Jimmy, seemingly deeply exasperated, "what 'd I want t' put him out for? Did he have any dough?"

"You probably know more about that than we do," answered Simmonds, with meaning.

"You mean I went through him? Well, I didn't! But if I did, what 'd want t' come back and kill him for?"

"Of course," murmured Simmonds, gazing meditatively at the ceiling, "it's quite impossible that he'd drop a word about the pile he had salted down in his room."

"Oh, hell!" said Jimmy. "A bum like that! But come; let's see how far you'll go—of course you've got it figgered out! How did I work it? Mr. Higgins, here, saw me leave the building—"

"No, he didn't, Jimmy," corrected Simmonds gently. "He only saw you start for the street door. But as soon as the elevator started, you took to the stairs."

Jimmy threw up his hands with a fine gesture of despair.

"Oh, you've got it all fixed," he cried. "You'll railroad me to the chair, if you can. I suppose you've got somebody that'll swear they saw me do it?"

"Yes," agreed Simmonds quietly, "we have."

Jimmy paused to look at him and turned a little pale when he saw he was in earnest. He began to realise that perhaps he was really in a tight place.

"Come, Mr. Simmonds," he said, at last, "you don't mean that!"

"You ought to know. I'll have you identified tomorrow."

"Identified?"

"Yes—by the woman who saw you kill Thompson."

"A woman is it?" asked Jimmy helplessly. "Mebbe she's already been so obligin' as to give you my name?"

"No; but she gave us a description of you—a mighty good one. I spotted you as soon as I heard Higgins' story."

"So Mr. Higgins had a tale to tell, too, did he?" asked the cracksman, with a somewhat venomous glance at the janitor. "Was he also on the scene? Or mebbe he was lookin' through the transom?"

"No cause to get funny, Jimmy. You won't feel that way after I get through with you."

"Oh, won't I? We all know you're a bright man, Mr. Simmonds."

"Bright or not," said Simmonds complacently, "I've got you. Your record's against you, Jimmy."

(To be Continued Tomorrow.)

THE GAZETTE FASHION.

A Pretty Semi-Tailored Hat.

Among the most striking of the new spring millinery modes are the tailored and semi-tailored hats. Gowns built upon severe lines are really not complete without this style of headgear. The design reproduced is made of flat lace straw with a derby crown wreathed with nasturtium blooms, while the rolled brim is trimmed with satin folds and quills.

All of the ultra-smart hats this season are high at the side and back, while almost without exception the shapes are pressed shapes made of the lightest material. The leading straws are Leghorn, so fine that it can almost be drawn through a finger ring, Milan straw, tagal, or hemp and horsehair braid. There are but few rough straws, and these are softened by the daintiest, flimsiest decoration imaginable. Paris now is in ecstasies over Empire green and Nattier blue, as it was over the rose and raspberry shades at the beginning of the season. Grey, black and white are also much in demand, all of these being combined with the newest tones of red. In the matter of trimmings the stamp of approval has been set upon quills and simple flowers for semi-dressy wear, but the ultra floral trimmings are confined to plumes, roses of all sizes, shapes and colors and original effects in ribbon, while asparagus and maidenhair ferns are becoming more popular.

Hints for the Hostess.

Round tables are decidedly on the wane and long tables covered with hand-drawn linen covers are now esteemed most correct.

Filet, edged with Cluny is the favored combination for fine table linens. The napkins match the linen, but instead of lace are bordered with elaborate hemstitching.

Doilies for the uncovered tables have netted edges in preference to lace.

Bonbons, nuts and olives are now passed by the waitress instead of being placed on the table.

Place plates to be in the latest form, are of plain white china or white showing the faintest of tracery designs.

Rolls are served only with the soup. Toasted biscuit and relishes with the oysters.

The napkin is laid beside the place plate, but there is no roll within it these days.

Candelabra in the center of the table are again favored. A wreath of flowers standing upright around the base of the candelabra makes a pretty center.

You may use your judgment as to shaded or unshaded candles at formal affairs. Beaded shades are still good.

A shredded lettuce salad mixed with French dressing is combined with slices of Virginia baked ham.

Flies as Food.

Those good souls who have faith to believe that everything in existence fulfils some beneficent purpose will be gratified to learn—now that summertime approaches—that flies have a recognized commercial value as food.

It is not the American fly, however, that is so distinguished. The fly of commerce comes from Brazil, and they are highly esteemed as food for fancy chickens, birds and fish in captivity. These flies are caught on the Amazon river by men who float down stream in boats and use large nets to scoop in the millions of insects which circle in dense clouds just above the water.

The insects in a dry state constitute one of the richest of foods. For chickens they are mixed with other ingredients, such as maize, millet, etc. They are too rich a diet by themselves, but so great is their power of nourishment that a small quantity has a most beneficial effect on fowls in captivity.

The Brazilian government stopped the exportation of this commodity two years ago, fearing the fish in the stream would suffer from the trade. This ban, however, has recently been removed and the flies are again being imported to this and European countries.

Points in the Fashion.

We are indebted to the Anglo-Spanish nuptials for the Alphonse XIII. rose. This new rose forms in itself a delightful hat trimming. The stem is very long and held on one side the crown so that the blossom is held upright and balances itself on the least motion of the wearer.

Ribbon trimming which has been some what on the wane in millinery, has experienced a revival. Many of the spring chapeaux for morning wear and for the tailor-made are trimmed solely in ribbon. The Ecossais, the Pompadour and the Paisley are the ribbons chosen and these generally show a colored border. The ribbon is either draped or encircles the crown and is disposed in large coques on the left side and almost at the back.

Fruit trimmings are occasionally used, the cherries being most favored. The look well on white, natural and yellow straws.

Roses are everywhere—Marchel Neil, La France and the deep red ones termed Marie Henriette, as well as the popular "Beauties."

Spotted foulards are once more prominent. White grounds with black spots dark blue and white or red and white make effective summer frocks.

The blouse will continue in favor although pretty well crowded by the chimisettes called into vogue by the princess and corselet skirts.

Diet Kitchens.

There has been established in Washington a diet kitchen under the direction of a woman. The patrons of this unique shop are mostly physicians, who send their patients for such dishes or foods as will best suit their needs, very much as they send prescriptions to be filled by the apothecary. It is a practical illustration of the belief that proper food is just as necessary as medicine. The patient who has not the hospital diet cook to supervise his meals may thus be treated and avoid the ill judged kindness of family and friends.

THE GAZETTE PATTERN.

(No. 5543.) Ladies' Shirtwaist.

This stylish shirtwaist is suitable for any of the season's fabrics, and is quite simple to make, as the pattern is plainly marked for the tucks and can be easily followed. The three broad tucks across the front give width to the figure, so much sought after just now. Cashmere, mohair, taffeta, linen and madras are all adaptable. The medium size will require 4 yards of 36-inch material.

Ladies' Shirtwaist No. 5545: Sizes for 32, 34, 36, 38 and 40 inches bust measure.

GAMES TODAY.

New York at Philadelphia; Boston at Brooklyn.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

ST. LOUIS, MO., April 15.—By superior playing the Pirates defeated the Cardinals today, 5 to 3. The finish was sensational, as in Thursday's contest. Karger pitched a fine game, and was in distress only in the ninth inning, when he was taken out and Leifield substituted, with three men on bases, none out and the score 5 to 1.

Shannon had singled; Grady got first on Sheehan's bad throw and Smoot reached first on balls. The crowd was nearly wild. Leifield had not warmed up much and gave Beckley his base on balls, forcing Shannon over the plate, then the noise became deafening. Himes struck out, making the first down. On Arndt's out, Nealon to Leifield, Grady crossed the pan, McBride ended the game by sending a roller to Nealon.

High-class fielding characterized the game on both sides. In the fine points of baseball the locals did not class with the visitors.

Pittsburgh started off with a lead of two runs. In the first inning, after Clarke had gone out, a single was planted in right by Ganley. Clymer sent one to center for three bases which would have been good for a homer on dry grounds, Ganley scoring. Clymer crossed the plate when Wagner doubled to right. On a wild pitch Wagner went to third. He gave the signal for Nealon to play the hit-and-run, but Joe missed the ball and Wagner was caught at the plate. Nealon took his base on balls, and singles by Sheehan and Ritchey filled the corners.

Bennett led off with a single for St. Louis in the first, took second on Shannon's out and third on Carisch's wild throw to catch him at second. He got no farther though, as the next two men were easy outs. After Karger had struck out in the second, Clarke singled, but was put out at second in trying to stretch it into a double. Ganley got a base on balls, being nabbed a minute later in trying to steal second.

The Cardinals went out in order in their half of the second, Sheehan making a fine stop of Beckley's hot one and Karger getting rollers of Himes and Arndt.

Nealon, in the third for Pittsburgh, made one of the quickest runs ever seen on a ball field. After Clymer and Wagner had been easily retired Nealon again got first on balls. On the first pitch to Sheehan he darted for second. Grady tries to catch him and shoots the ball out. Pitcher Hoelskatter turns to look at the play at second, fails to notice the low throw and the ball hit him on the head. The sphere bounded clear to center field and before it could be returned Nealon had reached home.

Two great stops by Wagner, for which he was cheered and a beautiful gathering in of a roller by Sheehan also bringing forth applause, retired St. Louis in the third.

St. Louis got one in the fourth through Wagner missing an easy roller by Shannon. Following Grady's fly-out to Ganley an easy one of Smoot's was handled by Nealon. Shannon taking second on the out. He scored on Beckley's single to center, but Jake was out in trying to steal second. There were great cheers from the crowd when the Pirates failed to score in the fifth after Clarke had led off with a triple to right. Ganley, Clymer and Wagner could not get the ball out of the infield.

Stupid base running and coaching lost chances for the Cardinals to score in the fifth inning. The crowds hooted the lobster-like performance. When Himes had struck out Arndt singled to right. McBride put a safety in center that got away from Ganley, and when Clarke, who had run over, had fielded the ball in Arndt had landed on third and McBride on second. Then Hoelsketter sent a line drive to Ganley, but McBride did not wait to see whether it was caught, and started for home, passing Arndt on third. Ganley got the ball, shot it home, Carisch returned it to second, completing a double play.

With two out in the seventh, Clarke and Ganley got bases on balls, but Clymer sent a little one to Bennett and then the Pirates took the field. Karger and Nealon easily put the three out in St. Louis' half of the seventh. Karger having two assists and covering first once when Nealon fielded Beckley's grounder. Himes was hit by a pitched ball, but did not get past first.

Three singles in succession to right field in the eighth by Wagner, Nealon and Sheehan and Ritchey's high fly to left scored two for the Pirates. With Nealon on third, Shannon did not try to cut him off at home when he got Ritchey's fly. This also gave the crowd a chance to hoot. Sheehan was left on second, as after Karisch had sacrificed Karger easily went out.

St. Louis in its half of the eighth and Pittsburgh in the last inning could do nothing. St. Louis in its half of the final inning made a strong bid for victory, but was not equal to the occasion. The score:

NO ADMISSION CHARGED TO THE BROOKLYN FIELD

BROOKLYN, N. Y., April 15.—The grounds of the Brooklyn National league baseball club were open to the public today, when the Boston and Brooklyn teams played the first Sunday game of the season here. No admission was charged, nor were any score cards or programs sold. At all the gates contribution boxes were conspicuously placed and the majority of those who passed through voluntarily dropped the regular amount charged for the grand stand, pavillion or bleachers on week days into these receptacles.

This was a new experiment on the part of the management and it seemed to be successful. Any persons who did not contribute, and these were few, passed in without hindrance. Deputy Police Commissioner O'Keefe, with his secretary and several policemen were present, but there was no interference on the part of the authorities. The commissioner said that he saw no cause for interfering, as there was no infraction of the law so far as he could judge.

Five thousand persons witnessed the game, which was played on a rain-soaked diamond and outfield. Boston scored its fourth consecutive victory over Donovan's men. There will be no game tomorrow, as the one scheduled for that date was played today. The score:

CINCINNATI, April 15.—Today's game went 10 innings, in which Umpire Johnstone allowed Steinfeldt a three-base hit which he said went into the crowd, although Odwell said he stopped the ball before it reached the rope. Wildness marked the work of the three pitchers that took part in the game. Attendance, 12,960. Score:

"Sunny" Price's Team Wins.

ADA, O., April 15.—(Special.)—Ohio Northern university opened the season here yesterday by defeating the strong Heidelburg university team 7 to 4. A good game was played considering the wet and muddy condition of the grounds. Royon pitched well after the fourth inning, allowing only three hits. Ohio Northern bunched hits in the fifth and eighth innings. The score:

KEEFE AND MULLIN TO UMPIRE THE BIG GAME

Well-Known Officials to Work the Manhattan-Pittsburgh College Affair.

The Pittsburgh college players will be put through hard practice this afternoon. The Manhattan college team of New York will be on the bluff tomorrow to play Capt. Keating's team. As this is the first western trip for the Gothamites the locals are determined to greet them with a defeat. Manager Charlie Duffy announced last night that Kummer will probably pitch the game for the bluffites. John Keefe of the Western and John Mullin of the P. O. M. league will officiate, thus insuring the spectators of a well-umpired game.

C. S. W. Packard, who has been treasurer of the University of Pennsylvania Athletic association since 1898, has resigned and Clifford Pemberton, Jr., class of '81 college, has been elected to the position. Mr. Pemberton formerly held the position from September, 1894, to December, 1897.

Coach Ellis Ward of the University of Pennsylvania crews has made another shake-up as the result of the "tubbing" practice that he has put the crews through for the past few days. Ewing has again been placed at stroke, while L. Shoemaker has been taken out of the first varsity boat entirely. Capt. Herman is back at No. 7 and with Kelley, Drayton and D. Shoemaker in the boat, Ward looks to have turned out a fast crew.

Lawrenceville defeated the Philadelphia Central High school at Lawrenceville in a dual track meet by the close score of 62 to 56. The score see-sawed back and forth between the two schools and was a tie at the last event, which was the broad jump, and here Lawrenceville won first and second with Rector and Bartholomay, Reel of Central High getting third. Rector and Whiteley of Lawrenceville did splendid work in the sprints and distance runs.

At Georgetown Saturday Byram filled the bases with two passes and an error by himself in the sixth inning, but he pulled out of the hole by striking out Mahoney and Mudd and letting Simon down with an easy grounder to Read. Bard's single, Cooper's sacrifice and Byram's bunt scored Princeton's first run. An error by Scheller, Bard's single and Warwick's safe bunt filled the bases for Princeton in the seventh inning and Cooney emptied them with a two-bagger, scoring Princeton's other three runs.

2 in 4 innings. Two-base hits—Needham, Alperman. Home run—Lumley. Sacrifice hits—Dolan, Howard, Bridwell 2. Stolen base—Gessler. Double play—Maloney and Bergen. P. O. M. UMPIRES INSTRUCTED; CLUBS' CONTRACTS APPROVED

The umpires who will serve in the Pennsylvania, Ohio and Maryland league this season were given their instructions by the president of the league yesterday afternoon at this office. After receiving their instructions John Keefe, the Western league official, who has been umpiring for 16 years, addressed the P. O. M. umpires. Keefe told some of his experiences in close plays and elucidated some funny baseball technicalities.

The umpires have not as yet been assigned their opening games, which will not be done until a few days prior to the opening of the season, May 24.

The following P. O. M. contracts have been approved by the president of the league: With Washington—W. A. James, Byron Slaughter, Alex Pustin, W. F. Rodgers, M. O. Bridges, W. S. Gladfelter, W. L. Carles, W. B. McKechnie, Lanty McConnell, C. L. Moffatt, Ed. Murphy, F. C. MacHale, Kerr Price. With Waynesburg—Buck Brant. Released—By Waynesburg, Ed. Lynch.

Ed Gilligan, last season with Zanesville and signed again by that team, says he will not go back to Paducah of the Kitty league. Gilligan has accepted terms with Butler in the P. O. M. league.

NEW CASTLE, PA., April 15.—(Special.)—The New Castle club has decided to purchase from the Utica club of the New York state league the release of Bill Anderson. He will report here this week.

DUNBAR, PA., April 15.—(Special.)—A strong baseball team has been organized here. Charles Ritchies is elected captain and Howard Minerd manager. The season will open at Dawson on April 19.

TIGERS EXPECT TO DO WELL ON TRACK

PRINCETON, N. J., April 15.—A much more active interest has been taken in track athletics by the undergraduates of Princeton this spring than ever before and the outdoor season opened auspiciously with the institution of the training table last week. Although in the past the track has not enjoyed the active attention that has been devoted to baseball and football, this year a marked improvement has been experienced both in the amount of new material and in the interest taken by the student body at large.

The undergraduates are beginning to realize the fact that Princeton is able to produce track teams as successful as those of any other large colleges and they are expressing their increased interest by the most loyal and active support of the team. And the prospects are such as to justify their confidence for, in spite of the fact that exceedingly valuable men have been lost in D. C. Chapin and R. E. Williams, captain of last year's team, by graduation and that Captain-elect G. Ruion-Miller has left college on account of ill health, there still remains the nucleus of a strong team.

In addition to the men of proven ability who are still in college a large number of new candidates have reported and have been thoroughly trained in accordance with their abilities. Of these new men R. A. Gamble gives promise of developing into a fast sprinter and has done particularly well in the 100 yards and the 440 yards runs. The excellent showing made by W. M. Armstrong, the present captain, at the Fordham meet, where he defeated Amster of Pennsylvania, the intercollegiate high hurdle champion, shows the Quakers' improvement he has made since last year, when he won third place in the 120 yards hurdles at the intercollegiate meet.

L. H. Simons, who won first place in the broad jump last year, is back in college, and in addition to his jumping he has been showing up well in the sprints. Another experienced broad jumper who is eligible to compete this year is C. W. Kennedy, formerly of Columbia, who won that event in the intercollegiates in 1902. H. L. Moore, who vaulted 11 feet 9½ inches at St. Louis in 1904, but was ineligible last year on account of conditions, will be able to compete this year and is expected to win a place.

In the distance runs R. L. Swan and J. H. Kelly are experienced men and should show up well, while A. T. Maurice and R. P. Lingle are both good men in the half-mile run. E. Rafferty, W. R. Daub and J. C. McCormick have developed into strong men in the weight events, so that, although Princeton only won fifth place in last year's meet, her prospects this year are considerably brighter.

CARTER HANDICAP TO BE RUN TODAY

Roseben Quoted at 2 to 1 in Betting for Classic Event. Ormondes Right Fancied.

THE TRACK IS MUDDY

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, April 15.—The Carter handicap, the $10,000 feature of the opening day of Metropolitan racing, will be run at Aqueduct tomorrow probably on a muddy track, because of the heavy rains today. The Carter has always been an interesting race, as it has furnished the first real contest between the better class of horses and has oftentimes developed the horse of the year. This was notably the case in 1904, when the speedy Beldame romped over the seven furlongs of the Aqueduct course and won the first race of a year, which proclaimed her a champion of the turf. Last year's Carter was won by Ormonde's Knight, who is again a candidate this year.

The horses, jockeys and probable odds are as follows:

Horse.	Weight.	Jockey.	Betting.
Roseben	122	Lyne	2 to 1
Lord of the Vale	126	J. Jones	6 to 1
*Rams Horn	116	O'Neill	10 to 1
*Pail Finch	116	J. Martin	10 to 1
Ormondes	114	Shaw	4 to 1
Red Knight	108	Treubel	40 to 1
Southern Cross	106	C. Morris	5 to 1
Bohemia	104	Miller	10 to 1
Whimsical	103	L. Smith	8 to 1
Rebo	100	Garner	60 to 1
Goldsmith	99	Fielschon *	60 to 1
Battleaxe	95	Noone	50 to 1
D'Arkle	95	Chandler	100 to 1
†Green Room	95	D. O'Connor	12 to 1
†Belmere	93	McDaniel	12 to 1
Ballotta	93	G. Barnes	100 to 1
Hermitage	90	Notter	100 to 1

*Williams entry. †Bennington entry.

PITTSBURGH COLLEGIANS TO BE STRONG TEAM

Alex McCracken Announces Games Thus Far Arranged for Crack Aggregation.

Alexander McCracken, the captain of the Pittsburgh Collegians, said last night that his team will surprise all the clubs on the independent circuit this year again. Last year the team made an excellent record, and McCracken is strong in his belief that the collegians will be faster and better than ever. The team will have more older players, he said.

"I have received letters from many players who wish to be with us this year, and some of them are good, but I do not want to state now who will be on the team. I have been watching some of the local school teams working and there are at least two youngsters who deserve a trial. They will be tried out in the early games and if they make good we shall retain them," he said. McCracken said the following games have been scheduled:

June 11, 12, at Westminster college.
June 16, at Vandergrift.
June 18, 19, at Washington and Jefferson.
June 25, at Indiana, Normal.
June 27, 28, at West Virginia university.
July 4, at Beaver Falls (two games).

Negotiations with other clubs, including an eastern trip to Atlantic City and other eastern cities, McCracken said that teams wishing games can address him through The Gazette.

BOOKMAKER DAVIS ARRESTED—A TEST CASE

WASHINGTON, April 15.—As the result of evidence quietly gotten at Bennings, Bookmaker Davis, who laid odds at that track during the meeting which closed yesterday, has been indicted, and it is expected that his case, which is to be a test one, will be brought up in the courts here within a month. The facts became known today. Assistant District Attorney Harvey Given and others of the district attorney's office, visited the track Wednesday afternoon, took paraphernalia, including sheets, the money box, etc., and laid them before the grand jury, which indicted Davis Thursday. He furnished bond of $1,000 Friday morning.

United States District Attorney Baker tonight stated that he expected the case would be brought up for a trial within a month and that if the government lost an appeal would be taken to the court of appeals and every effort made to have the case decided before another season of racing in the District of Columbia.

Harrisburg and All-Professionals.

HARRISBURG, PA., April 15.—(Special.)—About 500 fans sat out a dreary game of ball yesterday in the rain between the Harrisburg Club and the Philadelphia All-Professionals, a scrub team. STRINGENT MONEY MARKET IS CAUSE OF CONJECTURE

Just What Causes Present Conditions Is Not Exactly Known—Two Views of Secretary Shaw's Relief Measure.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, April 15.—It is impossible to determine from money rates alone, and particularly from such widely fluctuating rates as this market has recently witnessed, precisely how severe and how serious the existing stringency actually is. If one could measure with some degree of exactitude what proportion of the excessive rates was due to actual conditions, and what proportion was contributed by hysteria, arising out of a deep-seated suspicion that money was being manipulated, then a person could better determine the effectiveness of the measures of relief.

Wall street has been a disgracefully disordered money market, witnessing in one day so shameless a fluctuation in call money as 25 per cent in the forenoon and 2 per cent in the afternoon. To all intents and purposes, for a well-ordered market, the 2 per cent rate was fully as disquieting as the 25 per cent. As a means of determining the actual monetary situation, both were equally misleading. In fluctuations such as these there is extortion or waste, a general derangement of delicately poised markets, such as that of international exchange. It is shameful that such a condition can prevail in a supposedly intelligent money center.

That conditions of genuine stringency have prevailed there can be no doubt. Two developments of the week advertised this to the whole world, one the action of the governors of the New York stock exchange in keeping that institution open on Good Friday, contrary to the precedent of 40 years, and the other, the action of Secretary Wilson in facilitating gold imports by the utilization of public money placed at the disposal of national banks. These, in return, deposited security with the treasury and counted the gold in transit as reserves already in bank. No question of security of the public funds is involved in the proceeding, for in the dealing between the treasury and the banks Mr. Shaw follows a course introduced by him some months ago.

Wall street and the entire financial and mercantile community dislike innovations in matters touching upon the money market. In consequence the opening of the stock exchange on Good Friday, though devised as a measure of prudence, and the departure of the secretary of the treasury from the ordinary procedure in the matter of arranging for gold imports, much desired as importation of gold is at the present time, has given rise to much conjecture as to what the precise money market conditions were that prompted these unusual actions. This, doubtless due more largely than to anything to the frame of mind into which Wall street has gotten itself over the wide discussion as to manipulated money markets, a condition which it must be admitted has been due in part to the action of certain banks in calling loans, standing say at 6 per cent in the morning, and relcaning equal amounts to the same borrowers at 18 or 20 per cent in the afternoon.

If the arrangement made by Secretary Shaw proves of any real and lasting benefit to the commercial and industrial community, it can, in view of the outrageous workings of the sub-treasury in draining money, be defended, if not on legal grounds, as an emergency relief measure. One may search the relation to the sub-treasury and the national banks in vain for any specific authority for this use of public money. But as the treasury is making temporary loans to banks without interest, to be repaid upon receipt of the metal, the whole performance looks like an expedient to bridge a brief interval, and of sentimental rather than of actual benefit to the commercial community.

If there is some more comprehensive plan back of Saturday's simple announcement this comment is without weight; but if not, then the action looks like favoritism, and a more effective way to give relief would be to violate no precedents and redeposit the public money as heretofore in banks.

FOREIGN MARKETS WEAK; RUSSIAN LOAN BLAMED

Members of London Stock Exchange Are Confident of Improvement in Business Coming.

[Special Cable to The Gazette.]

LONDON, April 15.—With its traditional optimism, it has always been the custom in the stock exchange for some years past to consider improvement of business as probable after some particular date or event toward the close of 1906. The turn of the new year was sure to see a boom, which, alas, never came.

Now it is to be "after Easter." In fact, members of the stock exchange left off on Thursday in the best of good spirits in spite of the threatening situation in the American market and in spite of the rebuff to high class investments conveyed in the very meager response to the corporation of London loan.

With only half a week's business to discuss, and that of the slowest, there is very little to tell. Business was very slack in all markets. In fact, at the close there was practically nothing doing at all.

It must be said, however, that amid the almost oppressively brilliant weather which the country has been enjoying and the reports of a record Eastern exodus at the Great London terminal, the home railway market at the close of the week became still more alive to the possibilities of a bumper holiday. Receipts for southern railways in particular went up from one to two points, and the market closed on the whole in a most cheerful mood.

The state of affairs in Wall street, indicated by the notification that the New York stock exchange would be open on Good Friday, seemed quite ignored by the market here, or it may have been that its effect was counteracted by the sudden drop in the rate for call money to 2 per cent, and the idea that the position would be relieved by gold withdrawals from this side.

Foreign markets have been the weakest of all, a weakness, which rightly or wrongly was attributed to Paris because of the impending Russian loan.

Though not by any means superabundant, money has been in better supply. Loan rates dropped until Wednesday, when the stock exchange settlement had to be provided for. The general rate for advances for the week is now 2½ per cent. Discount rates on the other hand have stiffened somewhat, 3 1-16 per cent being the usual quotation for the best three months' bills.

DULL ON THE BOURSE.

Only Semblance of Activity in Paris Is in Russian Bonds for the New Loan.

PARIS, April 16.—(Special Cable.)—Marked dullness characterized the bourse all last week. The approach of the general elections and the unsatisfactory state of home politics have caused a slight setback all around.

The only semblance of activity has been in Russian bonds, carrying preference for subscription to the new loan, which by all indications will be a great success. The selling to create resources for this subscription has added a further element to the weakness.

Find Bullet in Woman's Back.

Mrs. Andrew Baucrck of 15 Benton street, Allegheny, who was struck by a stray bullet Saturday night, will live. Physicians at St. John's hospital probed for the bullet yesterday, and found it in the muscles of the back. Detectives have been unable to find the person who fired the shot, but it is still their opinion that it came from the hillside, near California avenue.

You can always depend upon it. Pilene positively cures Piles. All druggists sell it.

EGGS ARE DRUG ON THE PITTSBURGH MARKETS

Hundreds of Cases Could Not Be Disposed of on Saturday. Strawberries in Demand.

Eggs got an awful jolt Saturday, and as a result there was no stated price for them in Pittsburgh the day before Easter, which is something unprecedented. All day Saturday hucksters and retail merchants tried to dispose of their eggs on the wharves and in the market places at any price ranging from 13 cents to 18 cents. Even at the minimum price eggs were hard to dispose of. The Chicago market, as usual, was up a cent when the Pittsburgh market was so weak. It is predicted that if nothing happens to strengthen the market they will go as low as 12 cents a dozen today. Shipments from the south, principally by boat, were large on Saturday, and the boats due here today also have large cargoes of eggs. There is no reason to be ascribed for the weak condition of eggs except that the supply was larger than for years past at this season.

With the exception of eggs there were no changes in the market except on strawberries. This luxury was very stiff. All day the merchants had demands for the berries, but not enough were in the city to supply the demand. Hundreds of baskets could have been sold at 50 cents a basket if they could have been secured, but the market was glutted early in the morning. It seems the short supply is due to the Florida article being about out of the market and the northern variety not yet equal to the demand.

Liberty street merchants report that they experienced the busiest trade during the past week that they have had for the same time in years past. Yet, Saturday was not a record day, as the main buying had been done earlier in the week.

HAY AND GRAIN.

Receipts.

Receipts bulletined Saturday were: Pennsylvania, 24 cars hay, 13 cars oats, 4 cars corn, 2 cars feed, 10 cars straw. Baltimore & Ohio, 10 cars hay, 1 car corn, 1 car oats. Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, 3 cars hay, 2 cars rye, 3 cars oats.

On Saturday prices took another upward rise and there seems to be no relief in sight. The hay that is being received is not of the best quality, and consequently best-class timothy is still in demand at any price.

THE THREE RIVERS

The stage of water at Davis Island dam at 9 last night was 9.9 feet and the river was falling.

CINCINNATI, O., April 15.—(Special.)—At 6 p. m. today, the Ohio river at Cincinnati was 28.8 feet and rising. The departures of packets from the port of Cincinnati, today were: Courier for Maysville and City of Louisville for Louisville. Captain Harry Doss, who has been pilot on the Georgia Lee, will be in command of the Princess, the sister boat of the Island Queen. Negro roustabouts are commanding higher wages than at any time in the history of navigation. Many of the boats in the lower part of the river have been forced to delay their trips on account of the scarcity of this class of labor. Weather clear and cold.

MORGANTOWN—River 4 feet and rising. Rainy.

GALLIPOLIS—River 24 feet and falling. Cloudy, cool.

OIL CITY—River 3 feet 10 inches and falling. Cloudy and cool.

STEUBENVILLE—River 12 feet 10 inches and falling. Cloudy and cold. Up—Ben Hur, 6:30 a. m.; Kanawha, 6 p. m. Down—Harvester, 9:30 p. m.

WARREN—River 4 feet 3 inches and falling. Rain.

PARKERSBURG—River 16 feet and falling. Cool and cloudy. The Virginia left for Cincinnati; Bedford for Wheeling.

POINT PLEASANT—River 20 feet 4 inches and cloudy and cool. Down—Greenland, James Moren, Henry M. Stanley.

LITTLE COAL MOVING.

But One Boat Was Sent Out Yesterday During the Good Tow Stage.

The river started to rise last night again, and a good stage of water is expected. It is predicted that at least 13 feet will be the stage at Davis Island, and this will guarantee some more shipments. But one boat went out yesterday. The Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Company sent out the Sam Brown with a tow of six boats and 18 barges. There will be no coal sent out today, but if the river maintains its barge stage some departures will occur tomorrow. The Tom Doddsworth arrived yesterday with a tow of empties.

The excursion season was to have been inaugurated yesterday, the Island Queen of the John F. Klein line being scheduled to make two trips, one to Coraopolis and one to Braddock. On account of an inability to get the boat in shape and the poor prospects for a crowd, caused by the weather, the date of the first excursion was postponed until next Sunday.

No effort will be made by the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Company to raise the H. M. Hoxie, which blew up and sunk a week ago, until the lowest stage of water has been reached. At present the boat is lying in 23 feet of water.

SPITTING IN STREET CARS IS RESULTING IN ARRESTS

Spitting in the street cars is being vigorously suppressed, hardly a day passing without an arrest for this offense. Carman Lemeric of 1308 Penn avenue was taken off a Center avenue car yesterday and locked up, and Michael Creast, arrested for the same offense on Saturday, was released yesterday morning, after spending the night in Central station.

GYPSY QUEEN
Those who buy this stock now, are sure to make money. We can convince the most skeptical of this.
Up until the last year or two, investors in the east lost money in mining stocks and very naturally the promoter was forced to search for good properties in order to get a buyer. Therefore, only meritorious stocks are now in demand and Investors Are Making Money
because they are "wise." In the past profits in mining have been confined to the west. Now, eastern people are making money. FOR INSTANCE, WE FLOATED THE STOCK OF THE MANHATTAN CONSOLIDATED CO. IN PITTSBURGH LAST JANUARY AT 22 CENTS AND THE STOCK IS NOW WORTH $1.85 PER SHARE.
Gypsy Queen will be the next winner. We will convince you of this if you will call at our office or write for map of the Tonopah District and full particulars.

GREAT TRADE NOW WITH PORTO RICO

Imports from Island Increase $13,000,000 and Exports to It Gain $12,000,000.

SUGAR IS LARGEST IMPORT

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, April 15.—A bulletin issued by the department of commerce and labor says that the trade of the United States with North American countries, exclusive of Canada, Mexico and Cuba, but inclusive of Porto Rico, aggregated in the fiscal year 1905 practically $100,000,000, as compared with $80,000,000 in 1900.

Porto Rico has an annual commerce of about $35,000,000, of which 84 per cent is with the United States. The participation of the United States in this trade has largely increased since the organization of Porto Rico as a customs district of this country in 1900. In 1897 the value of merchandise shipped from the United States to Porto Rico was less than $2,000,000. In 1905 it was over $14,000,000. Porto Rico's shipments to the United States increased from $3,000,000 in 1900 to almost $16,000,000 in 1905.

Sugar shipments from Porto Rico to the United States in 1905, including molasses, were valued at $12,176,881.

With the British West Indies, the bulletin says, our trade amounts to about $20,000,000 annually, almost equally divided between imports and exports. Our imports from the British West Indies in 1905 were smaller than in any year, with three exceptions since 1885, and our exports to the islands, while slightly exceeding those for intermediate years, are over a half million dollars less than those of 1865.

With Haiti and Santo Domingo the trade of the United States has been practically stationary during the past few years. Our total imports from Haiti decreased from $1,190,240 in 1901 to $1,101,650 in 1905; and our exports thereto decreased from $3,424,662 in 1901 to $2,297,090 in 1905. From Santo Domingo our imports increased from $3,532,766 in 1901 to $4,664,200 in 1905, but our exports decreased during the same period from $1,799,685 to $1,666,789.

With the Central American republics—Costa Rica, Guatemala, Honduras, Nicaragua, Salvador and Panama—the trade of the United States amounts to nearly $27,000,000 annually, a little less than $13,000,000 representing imports and the remainder exports. Exports to Panama in 1905 amounted to $4,745,562.

Our imports from Costa Rica in 1905 amounted to $4,296,724 and our exports to that country, which the bulletin says show a decreasing tendency, aggregated $1,758,429.

With Guatemala our trade amounts to about $5,775,660 annually; with Honduras it is less than $4,000,000; with Nicaragua about $3,500,000 and with Salvador it ranged from $2,000,000 to $2,500,000 annually.

Newfoundland and Labrador as a whole supplied $1,184,229 of imports and $2,449,425 of exports in the trade of the United States during the last fiscal year.

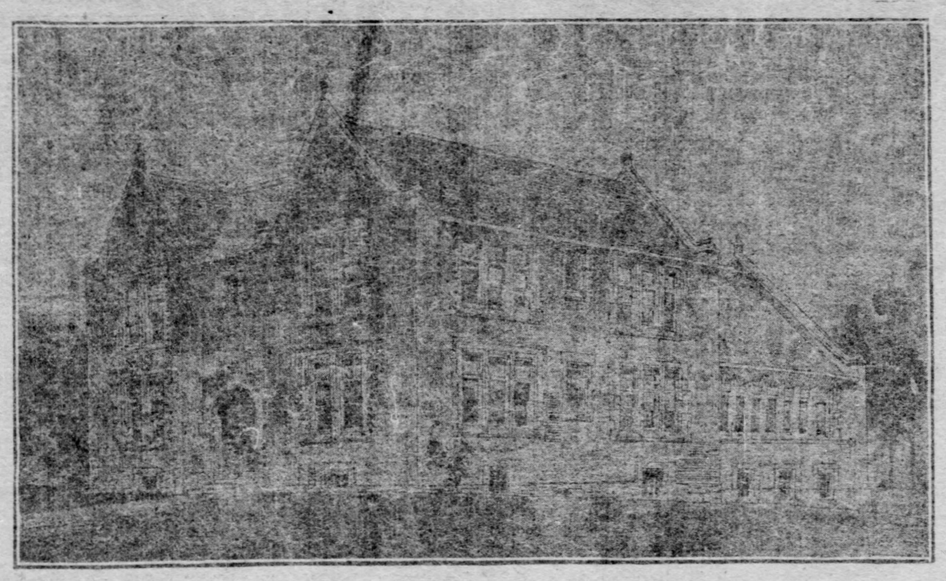
Handsome School Building Dedicated at Meadville Saturday



Preparatory School Building of Allegheny College.

MEADVILLE, Pa., April 15.—(Special.)—The new Preparatory building of Allegheny college, which was donated by Andrew Carnegie, was formally taken possession of yesterday when the Preparatory students gathered in the chapel in the building and listened to addresses by Dr. W. H. Crawford, president of the college, Dr. T. L. Flood, of Meadville, and Prof. Frederick S. Breed, principal of the Preparatory school. The building is of gray vitrified brick and terra cotta, in the English style, is situated on the northeastern corner of the campus facing North Main street. It is one of the prettiest buildings of the campus.

The woodwork is finished in dark stain, the side walls are red, and the ceiling in cream. The supporting beams of the ceiling are finished like the woodwork. The building contains, besides an office, seven large recitation rooms, a laboratory, chapel and literary society rooms. The principal's office is at the right of the entrance, three recitation rooms to the left, while at the end of the hall is the chapel, which is beautiful in its decoration. Four large recitation rooms and cloak rooms occupy the second floor, while the third floor is reserved for the literary societies of the school. The basement is used for a gymnasium and chemical laboratory, and is thoroughly and completely equipped.

Prof. Frederick S. Breed, principal of the school, and teacher of Latin and English, is assisted by Miss Helen McClintock, English and German; Miss Jessie Merchant, History and French; R. Elmer Hendershot, Mathematics; B. F. Van Riper, Science; R. N. Taylor, Greek and Latin.

Prof. F. S. Breed,
Principal of the Prep School.

Local.

The fact that M. O. Coggins, the commission merchant, left no will, gave rise to a romantic story that a last testament had been burned. Mayor Guthrie doubted value of plans for filtration plant and may employ an expert to revise them. President Buchanan of C. Jutte & Co., was permitted to testify in Friend-Hofstott case. Judge Young enjoined the Ice Wagon Drivers' and Helpers' union from interfering with the business of several ice companies. Judge McClung said he almost lost his faith in humanity after listening to testimony in Braddock liquor license cases. James Francis Burke is a candidate to succeed himself in congress. Que Chow, Chinese Highbinder, returned to New York, and quiet settled down on local Chinatown. Martha E. Lewis, the late Capt. S. S. Brown's protege, was married to an Ottawa lawyer.

Domestic.

Powder explosion in the forward turret of the battleship Kearsarge killed six, dangerously wounded two, and slightly injured other officers and seamen. Two negroes were lynched at Springfield, Mo., by a mob of 3,000 citizens. Israel Ludlow, the aeronaut, was perhaps fatally injured by a drop of 200 feet in his aeroplane. President Roosevelt delivered an address on the "Man With the Muckrake" at the laying of the corner stone of the new house of representatives building in Washington. Johnstone Bennett, the actress, died at Montclaire, N. J., from tuberculosis. Mrs. E. M. Nelson, impressed with the beauty of the Hudson river, left as dying injunction that she be cremated and her ashes scattered over the bosom of the stream.

Foreign.

Prof. Matteucci gave a detailed account of the recent eruption of Vesuvius, his talk being interrupted by another fearful explosion, making a rent in the western cone of the crater.

Sporting.

Results of the ball games in the National and American leagues. Championship of the Allegheny County Bowling league will be decided on Wednesday. Three race tracks finished their meetings and closed for the season. Schaefer defeated Sutton in the international billiard tournament at New York.

Financial.

New York stocks were fairly active and firm, closing higher under the leadership of the copper stocks, United States Steel and Union Pacific. New York bank reserves made good and a surplus of $4,722,090 was reported. Bullish crop reports caused a weakness on Chicago grain market and the close showed a drop in May delivery.

FRANKLIN PORTRAIT COMES.

Earl Grey's Gift of Painting, Taken from Philadelphia During Revolution, Reaches New York.

NEW YORK, April 15.—The portrait of Benjamin Franklin from the famous gallery in Dorchester House, London, now the residence of Ambassador Whitelaw Reid, which has been restored to the United States by Earl Grey, the governor-general of Canada, arrived today on the American line steamer St. Paul.

In view of the approaching bi-centenary Franklin celebration soon to be held in Philadelphia, Earl Grey thought it fitting that the picture should be restored at this time. The portrait went to England during the revolutionary period and became the property of Earl Grey, a great grandfather of the present earl. It was taken from Franklin's home in Philadelphia.

Reception to Y. M. C. A. Secretary.

In the Oil Fields.

The failure to make any new discoveries in the fields under development in the lower southwest or Southeastern Ohio during the past week made the dullness that has prevailed for so many months all the more noticeable. It is quite certain that there will be no resumption of active development work for some time. The roads are still in a condition that makes them almost the worst that have been experienced since the development of the lower southwest fields began. The deplorable condition of the roads in Southeastern Ohio and the local fields has caused as much delay in starting new work as in any other quarter. For months as the stocks have been reduced and no new producing territory worth mentioning discovered, operators and producers have anticipated an advance in the market. The hope was realized on Friday when the purchasing agency sent out new quotations for credit balances.

Seldom has the market remained stationary for so long a period as that just brought to an end by the advance. When the new quotations were sent out on last Friday morning, more than five months had elapsed since the last advance. The new price posted for credit balances of the Pennsylvania grade of crude is an advance of three cents, or $1.51. North Lima, South Lima and Indiana were advanced two cents, bringing the former up to 96 and the other two to 91 cents. All other grades were advanced in the usual ratio with Pennsylvania crude. Now that the market has been advanced, operators are hoping that other advances will follow. The benefits of an increase in the market are far reaching. It places a new value on the little oil wells that give up but a fraction of a barrel daily, and will encourage the drilling of wells in light territory. With the return of good roads, and a continued advance in the market operators will be inclined to do some wildcatting in the hope of discovering some new producing territory. It has been long since determined that no amount of activity in the old fields sustain the production to a point where it can meet the demand for high grade crude. To go outside of the old defined limits looking for new producing territory is hazardous business, and the incentive must be strengthened to a point much in advance of the present market quotation to cause any considerable showing of strictly wildcat operations.

To the southwest of the present producing field in West Virginia large blocks of territory have been leased within the past year, and it is that section that will first claim attention with purely experimental work. Operators who have taken up territory are of the opinion that to the southwest, between the present developments and the Big Lime development in Cabell county, there should be found some producing territory. Some good gas territory has been developed and following out the old theory, they reason that some new oil pools should be found in the same section. Southeastern and the middle portion of Ohio will be subjected to a more thorough testing during the present year than at any time in the past. In the central part of the state there are large areas of territory that have not been thoroughly tested.

In Ritchie county, W. Va., there is quite a scope of undeveloped salt sand territory that has been tested, and will furnish some new production. This will no doubt be the first district to receive attention when the conditions are more favorable for carrying forward development work. The tests that have been completed give assurance of fair wells and the territory can be operated at a moderate expense. Calhoun county has some undeveloped producing territory that has not yet been developed, and will be brought forward during the spring and summer. In nearly all undeveloped district operations will be largely gauged by the advance in the market. Should the advance continue it will be the one thing that will stimulate general activity.

There has been a marked decline in development work in Southeastern Ohio. The old districts have been fully defined and the efforts made to find new producing territory have not been fruitful. Near the Guernsey and Noble county line there is a chance for developing a new Berea grit pool. Three or four very good producers have been completed. In Meigs county, near Syracuse, the Ohio Fuel Supply Company completed a third well on the Edwards farm and got a duster. This is Cow Run sand territory, and has never been fully tested.

The Burgettstown field, in Washington county, is the only local development that is attracting any attention.

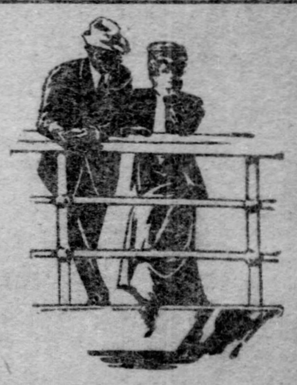
HARPERS BOOKS



THE SPOILERS
By Rex E. Beach

Novels are like men; strong personalities, virile emotions, energy and resource forge to the front and are quick to catch the public eye. This same magnetic force in THE SPOILERS—the work of a new writer—has immediately caught the reading world in its grip. They can't let go.

Why?

It is the story of a strong man, by a strong man, for strong and grown-up men to read. It tells a vigorous tale of a land where the conventions of society have no place. It is big with adventure, passion, love, strife—the primal emotions at white heat.

The keynote of the story is "There's never a law of God or man runs North of Fifty-three." At stake are woman's love, the wealth of the gold-ribbed hills, and the mastery of all for the man who has strength to seize and hold it.

Novels like THE SPOILERS are read at a sitting. Once the story is begun—!

We Recommend the Purchase of the Following Mining Securities:

Tonopah Golden Crown

We originally placed the first allotment of treasury stock of this company upon the market at 25 cents per share net. The company's holdings comprise 20 acres of ground lying immediately between MONTANA TONOPAH, selling around $3 per share, and TONOPAH MIDWAY, selling around $2.35 per share. GOLDEN CROWN is quoted today around 50 bid, offered at 60 cents, and between these two figures, it should be bought and held for a permanent investment. They have the ore, and it is simply a question of time before the company will be upon a shipping basis, and within the next six to eight months they should be in a position to begin the payment of dividends. We consider this stock the best purchase in the Tonopah camp.

Sandstorm Extension

The property is located at Goldfield, Nevada, immediately adjoining the properties of the MAY QUEEN, quoted around 37 cents per share, SANDSTORM MINING, quoted around $1.50 per share, and KENDALL MINING, quoted around 35 per share, a true extension of the great SANDSTORM mine. We offer this stock at 12 cents per share net. We strongly urge and advise its purchase, as we consider it the best low priced listed prospect in the entire Goldfield district.

Black Butte Bonanza

The properties of this company immediately adjoin the famous BLACK BUTTE DIAMONDFIELD CONSOLIDATED MINES COMPANY'S holdings in the Goldfield district. We originally placed this stock to our clients at 10 cents per share; today it is selling well above 20 cents per share, as control has passed to Salt Lake City, Utah, interests. We continue to advise the purchase of this stock.

Montgomery Mountain Mining

We originally placed the first allotment of treasury shares of this stock to the public at 50 cents per share. It has since sold as high as 97½ cents per share, and is quoted today 62 bid, offered at 68 cents per share, and at today's figures we strongly urge and advise its purchase, as within the next three months the stock should be selling around $2.00 per share.

Gibraltar Mines

We originally placed a small portion of the first issue of treasury stock of this property to our clients and friends at 55 cents per share. Today it is quoted at 85. We strongly advise its immediate purchase, as this stock is cheap at any price under $1.50 per share. It will pay you to hold this stock for a permanent investment.

Four Aces Mining

We originally placed the entire first treasury allotment of this stock to the general public at 12 cents per share. It has since sold as high as 40 cents per share and closed today 38 bid, offered at 40. We advise its immediate purchase, as we are satisfied that the stock will sell many points higher. The new machinery, which has been ordered for the property, is now upon the ground and is being rapidly placed in position. This will facilitate the present campaign of development work, and this company's holdings adjoining, as they do, such well known properties as Chas. M. Schwab's SHOSHONE CONSOLIDATED, now selling around $17.50 per share; Samuel Newhouse's MONTGOMERY MOUNTAIN, now selling around 62 to 70 per share; BULLFROG NATIONAL BANK, now selling around 92 cents per share; BULLFROG MINING and BULLFROG SUNSET, and other well known properties, should sell considerably higher. Development work is going on at the property at a rapid rate, and conditions are such that an important strike may be made upon this company's ground at any moment, and the natural result would be that the stock of this company would double and treble in value from present prevailing quotations.

Peerless Mining

This company owns two well located claims in the Bullfrog district, immediately adjoining the DENVER, the TRAMPS and ECLIPSE properties. It contains a true extension of the DENVER Ledge, and the TRAMPS and ECLIPSE ledges can be traced directly into the PEERLESS ground. We offer a small remaining portion of the first allotment of treasury stock at 25 cents per share net. The price of this stock will be raised to 35 cents per share within the next 60 days. An important strike was made upon the property yesterday, and development work at the property fully justifies a higher price for this security. We strongly urge and advise intending investors to buy this stock, and buy it at once.

Elkhorn Mining

We offer the first allotment of treasury stock at 20 cents per share net. This property is bounded on the east by the SHOSHONE POLARIS, belonging to Chas. M. Schwab, the AMETHYST BULLFROG, which originally sold at 15 cents per share, and is now quoted well above $1.00 per share, and is bounded on the south by the MONTGOMERY MOUNTAIN, bounded on the west by BULLFROG STEINWAY and the NEW HAMPSHIRE group of claims. The company also owns one claim immediately adjoining the GREAT EASTERN No. 1, and the GREAT EASTERN No. 3 on Bonanza Mountain. Development work is going on upon the company's ground at a rapid rate, and we look for the stock to sell a great deal higher than its original treasury price. This ground undoubtedly contains a continuation of the famous MONTGOMERY SHOSHONE and POLARIS vein, the richest and biggest vein in the entire Bullfrog district.

Manhattan Atlas

Owns four full claims immediately adjoining the BIG CHIEF. BIG CHIEF is selling at 75 cents per share and MANHATTAN ATLAS is now being offered for the first time at 15 cents per share net. This is the first offering of treasury stock. Surface assays give values running from $40 to $68 per ton. This company's holdings contain a true contact, and we would not be surprised to see one of the biggest properties in this section of the Manhattan Camp developed on the MANHATTAN ATLAS ground. The company is doing their own work, no lessees. We look to see the stock rapidly advance in value. The title is absolutely clear and the company is honestly and conservatively managed, and is being operated by well known mining men, who are bound to make a success of this undertaking. At 15 cents per share net, the first 100,000 shares we now offer to the general public, will undoubtedly be rapidly over-subscribed.

Manhattan Big Chief

Bob Montgomery, president; Malcolm Macdonald, vice president. The biggest and best property in the entire district of Manhattan today. This is positively the first chance that the eastern investing public have ever had to thoroughly identify themselves with the biggest mining interests in the entire state of Nevada. The par of this stock is $1.50 per share. We are selling the first 50,000 shares of treasury stock at 75 cents per share net. This stock will pay dividends and should be bought and held for a permanent investment. It should rapidly sell around $5.00 per share in the very immediate future. This is a stock that Banks, Trust Companies and Stock Exchange Houses can safely put their clients into. Any one who buys this stock will not be disappointed in their mining investments. You are going into partnership with big people, people who are thorough mining men, and are rapidly opening up and developing one of the biggest properties ever discovered in the state of Nevada. Wire all orders for this security.

Manhattan Eastern

Owns four claims adjoining some of the best properties in the district. We will continue to fill orders for this security at 15 cents per share net, as long as our present allotment lasts, as the stock is being rapidly subscribed. We strongly urge and advise customers to wire in their orders if they wish MANHATTAN EASTERN. The company has a splendid showing, the values on the surface running from $40 to $128 per ton. Development work is going on at a rapid rate, the company doing their own work. This is one of the best low priced purchases in the entire Manhattan district, and it will undoubtedly develop into a producing mine. It is well located, well managed, and has ample provision for future development in its treasury, and we cannot see how this stock can fail to make good to our customers. Orders will be filled in the order of their receipt, with the proviso that we reserve the right to cancel any and all subscriptions in the event of an over-subscription of our present allotment. It will pay you to wire your orders at our expense for this stock.

Manhattan

We were the first people in the entire East to offer Manhattan stocks to the general public. Our clients bought MANHATTAN CONSOLIDATED, MANHATTAN DEXTER and other well known Manhattan stocks that are now selling well above $1.00 per share, when they were first issued for a few cents per share. We also placed to our clients MANHATTAN CHIPMUNK at 25 cents per share, and it is now selling at 50 cents per share, and we strongly urge and advise its purchase. Mr. Malcolm Macdonald is president of this company, and this gentleman's well known past record is sufficient guarantee as to the value of this stock. The company at this time are taking out shipping ore, and we look to see early dividends on this security, and if you wish to make a permanent investment, buy this stock at its present price of 50 cents per share net.

Manhattan Treadwell

Patrick, Elliott & Camp's latest flotation. We can offer a limited number of shares at 15 cents per share net. Wire in orders for this security, as we understand the price is to be advanced to 20 cents per share very shortly.

Manhattan Jumbo Manhattan Red Top

We also offer and can supply MANHATTAN JUMBO at 20 cents per share, MANHATTAN RED TOP at 30 cents per share, MANHATTAN WHALE at current market quotations, MANHATTAN JUMPING JACK at current market quotations, and all other advertised MANHATTAN stocks at this office; thus providing our customers against the loss of time, and the chance of loss of their checks and stocks in doing their business through the mail with brokerage firms in the far West.

We will be glad to give further information regarding any of the above stocks to investors, and we especially solicit business from both large and small investors who wish to put their money into high-class stocks whereby they can make tremendous profits by holding these securities during the coming summer and fall. If you are thinking of investing in these securities write us, and we will endeavor to arrange a list of stocks that will give you the biggest and best results.
